CHERRY

By

BOOTH TARKINGTON

Author of "The Gentleman from Indiana," etc.

A SPARKLING romance of old New York. Mr. Sudgeberry tells the story, and unconsciously depicts himself a hopeless prig. He believes he is in love with Sylvia Gray—her beauty, her wit, her cherry ribbons dazzle his youthful but already ponderous and egotistical brain. He bores Sylvia and her poor father to extinction, believing himself irresistible. Finally the pouting Sylvia decides to take a momentous step, and places herself in what seems to be a very precarious situation. Mr. Sudgeberry intrudes at once, with officious attempts to save his Sylvia from a direful fate, but he learns that there is more than one string to the bow of a pretty girl. The romance is written in Mr. Tarkington's happiest vein. It is literature of a high order—clever, sprightly, amusing comedy.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS FALL PUBLICATIONS for 1903

FINELY ILLUSTRATED BOOKS

THE GIBSON BOOK FOR 1903

80 DRAWINGS INCLUDING THE WEAKER SEX

BY CHARLES DANA GIBSON

Uniform in size with previous volumes.

(Postage additional,) $4.20 net

Mr. Gibson's 1903 book, made up, as heretofore, of selections from his most popular drawings, will be especially attractive this year, not only because of the larger number of cartoons than usual, but, in particular, of the greatly increased popularity and the telling character of his latest work.

De luxe edition of 250 copies, numbered and signed by the author, with signed artist's proof in photogravure for framing. $10.00 net

DRAWN BY C. D. GIBSON COPYRIGHT 1903 CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS

JOHN S. SARGENT: A Collection of Sixty Reproductions in Photogravure of His Finest Paintings. With a critical introduction by MRS. ALICE MEYNELL. Folio, $30.00 net

This elaborate volume offers, for the first time, an adequate collection of the paintings of Mr. Sargent, particularly of his portraits, of which there are fifty-four. The plates run as large as seven by ten inches in size. The selection includes many pieces of portraiture celebrated in this country as well as in England, copies of which have been beyond the reach, heretofore, of the general public.

A limited edition de luxe. $60.00 net

COLONEL CARTER'S CHRISTMAS. By F. HOPKINSON SMITH. With 8 full-page illustrations in color by F. C. YOHN. 12mo. $1.50

Any who are not acquainted with the celebrated Colonel Carter of Cartersville will make his acquaintance under the most fortunate circumstances in this story, which is an entirely new one not heretofore published, even serially; while those who know him of old, and of course love him, will find here, in addition to the renewal of an old and delightful friendship, quite a new revelation of a character that has made a deep and lasting impression.

A special limited edition of 500 copies, each copy numbered and signed. Bound in parchment. In a box. $5.00 net

LITTLE RIVERS. By HENRY VAN DYKE. New edition uniform with "The Blue Flower." With 8 illustrations in color by F. V. DU MOND. 12mo, $1.50

The growing popularity of this classic of the woods and streams has led to this new edition, uniform with "The Blue Flower" and the "The Ruling Passion." This has made necessary an entire resetting, in order that the type page, as well as the beautiful and elaborate binding, should conform to the newer style.

THE BAR SINISTER. By RICHARD HARDING DAVIS. With 8 full-page drawings and numerous marginal illustrations by E. M. ASHE. 12mo, $1.50

This inimitable dog story, standing, as it does, practically alone in its class, is published in response to repeated suggestions. Mr. Davis has written an introduction in which he tells all about the original Kid.

BIOGRAPHY AND HISTORY

AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF SEVENTY YEARS. By SENATOR GEORGE F. HOAR. 2 vols., large 8*vo, with portrait.* (Postage additional,) $7.50 net

Not only for its political importance, but for the unusual personal, social and literary interest of the reminiscences it brings together, Senator Hoar's autobiography will be the most notable contribution of the year to memoir-literature.

REMINISCENCES OF THE CIVIL WAR. By GENERAL JOHN B. GORDON. With 3 portraits. Large 8*vo*, (Postage additional,) $3.00 net

The reminiscences, which are destined to take the place on the Southern side held by General Grant's "Memoirs" on the Northern side, were written by General Gordon from time to time throughout a great number of years.

THE STORY OF A SOLDIER'S LIFE. By FIELD MARSHAL VISCOUNT WOLSELEY. With photogravure portraits and plans. In 2 volumes. In Press

This work of great importance and widespread interest begins with the part Lord Wolseley took, as an ensign, in the Burmese war of 1852–3, and deals with the successive steps in his career, describing with great particularity his experiences in Canada, including his expedition to the Southern Confederacy and his meeting with General Lee and Stonewall Jackson.

JOHN ADDINGTON SYMONDS: A Biography Compiled from His Papers and Correspondence. By HORATIO F. BROWN. In one volume. With portraits and illustrations. 8*vo*, $2.00 net

A popular edition of this work, issued at a price which should bring it within everybody's reach, has been much to be desired, and is now provided.

ROSSETTI PAPERS: 1862 to 1870. Compiled by WILLIAM MICHAEL ROSSETTI. 8vo, $2.50 net

EXPLORATION AND TRAVEL

CENTRAL ASIA AND TIBET. By SVEN HEDIN, Author of "Through Asia.' With 8 illustrations in color, 16 drawings by distinguished artists, 400 photographs and 4 maps. 2 vols., large 8vo, $12.00 net

This is one of the most important books of exploration and discovery in many years. Last winter the newspapers of the world described Dr. Hedin's return from his three years in Central Asia and made announcement of his extraordinary experiences and discoveries. Since then he has been honored by every geographical society of standing in Europe, and this book is the first adequate description of his remarkable expedition and its accomplishments.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS' FALL PUBLICATIONS

VACATION DAYS IN GREECE. By RUFUS B. RICHARDSON, For many years Director of the American Archæological School in Athens. Fully illustrated. 8*vo*, (Postage 20 cents,) $2 00 net

A series of travel sketches, by the leading authority in the world in his department, told from the picturesque rather than from the archæological and scholarly point of view, although the two are so judiciously combined that the book will be indispensable both to the student and to the general traveler in Greece.

ITALIAN BACKGROUNDS. By EDITH WHARTON. 8*vo*. In Press

This important and very interesting volume of sketches, comment and criticism in a department which the author has made peculiarly her own, is the result of her long residence in Italy and her frequent recent visits.

FROM SARANAC TO MARQUESAS AND BEYOND. Being Letters written by Mrs. M. L. Stevenson during 1887–8 to her sister, Miss Jane Whyte Balfour. With an Introduction by GEORGE W. BALFOUR, M.D., LL.D., F.R.S.S. Edited by MARIE CLOTHILDE BALFOUR. In Press

These letters were written by Robert Louis Stevenson's mother while she was abroad with him. Mrs. Stevenson was a notable woman from whom her son inherited many of his finest qualities, especially his fortitude and cheerfulness. These letters give many glimpses of him.

CRUISING AMONG THE CARIBBEES. By CHARLES A. STODDARD. A new edition greatly enlarged and brought to date. With 18 illustrations, of which 6 are new. 12*mo*, $1.50

SOCIOLOGY, ETC.

FREEDOM AND RESPONSIBILITY. By ARTHUR TWINING HADLEY, President of Yale University. In Press

This important book, the full title of which is "The Relations Between Freedom and Responsibility in Democratic Communities," traces the history of democracy in its wider as well as in its narrower aspects.

THE MAKERS OF HELLES: A Critical Inquiry into the Philosophy and Religion of Ancient Greece. By E. E. G. With introduction, notes, and conclusion by FRANK BYRON JEVONS. $3.00 net

ALIEN IMMIGRATION. By MAJOR EVANS-GORDON. In Press

The author was the leading member on the Royal Commission which studied the question of allowing unlimited alien immigration into England. In pursuit of his studies he visited Russia, Austria and America, and the book gives his investigations and conclusions very fully. It has a special interest to America.

FICTION

THE LITTLE SHEPHERD OF KINGDOM COME. By JOHN FOX, JR. With illustrations by F. C. YOHN. 12*mo*, $1.50

ILLUSTRATED GIFT BOOKS

A CHECKED LOVE AFFAIR

By PAUL LEICESTER FORD, author of "Wanted: A Chaperon," "Wanted: A Matchmaker." etc. Illustrated in photogravure, with numerous decorations after the manner of Mr. Ford's very popular "Wanted: A Matchmaker." 8vo, cloth, $2.00

A BEAUTIFUL GIFT BOOK.

A charming story. One of the best that Mr. Ford wrote and never before published in book form.

IN ARCADY

By HAMILTON W. MABIE, author of "Forest of Arden," "A Child of Nature," etc. With four full-page photogravure illustrations by Will H. Low, and numerous decorations in color by Charles L. Hinton. 8vo, cloth, . . . net, $1.80

AN OUT-OF-DOORS IDYL.

"In Arcady" is an out-of-doors idyl; with something of the atmosphere and quality of Mr. Mabie's earlier book, so charmingly illustrated by Mr. Will H. Low, "In the Forest of Arden." Mr. Low has illustrated "In Arcady" with the same sympathy and delicate imagination, and has interpreted to the eye the series of four pictures marking the successive stages of growth in the life of a man who finds his way to Nature in childhood and lets his mind and heart unfold in harmony with Nature.

WHEN MALINDY SINGS

By PAUL LAURENCE DUNBAR, author of "Candle-Lightin' Time," "Lyrics of Lowly Life," etc. With illustrations by the Hampton Camera Club. 8vo, cloth, net, $1.50

A NEW VOLUME OF DIALECT POEMS.

The illustrating of Mr. Dunbar's new book will be done in a new and original manner. The poems are among the best that this very popular author has written.

RED-HEAD

By JOHN URI LLOYD, author of "Stringtown on the Pike," "Etidorhpa," etc. With numerous illustrations and decorations by Reginald Birch. 8vo, cloth. net, $1.60.

A STORY OF A FEUD.

A new story of an extremely interesting phase of Kentucky life—the feud. "Red-Head" will be remembered as a picturesque character in "Stringtown on the Pike," where, its readers will remember, the feud is touched upon, but does not enter into the story to any extent.

Mr. Birch's illustrations have caught the local color wonderfully.

THE BENDING OF THE TWIG

By WALTER RUSSELL, famous as a painter of children's portraits. 8vo, cloth, with over fifty full-page illustrations and many text cuts, ... net, $2.00

A BEAUTIFUL PICTURE BOOK.

Mr. Russell's beautiful holiday book will cover the training of children from the child's point of view. It consists of a number of sketches, each intended to cover some special phase of child life; and the child's mind will be shown, not only in the text, but in a series of beautiful pictures, of which there will be over one hundred in the book, more than fifty full pages and numerous small pictures in the text.

HISTORIC BUILDINGS

Described by Great Writers and Travellers, and profusely illustrated. Edited by ESTHER SINGLETON, author of "A Guide to the Opera," "Great Pictures," etc. 8vo, cloth, illustrated, ... net, $1.60

PHOTOGRAPHICALLY ILLUSTRATED.

The buildings which are closely associated with the great events in the world's history will never cease to be of interest. Their artistic reproductions, accompanied by graphic descriptions, must suffice for the great majority of readers, while those who have had the opportunity of personal inspection will enjoy all the more the memories thus evoked.

THE ORIENTAL RUG

With a chapter on Oriental Carpets, Saddle-bags and Pillows. By W. D. ELLWANGER, author of "A Summer Snowflake and Drift of Other Verse and Song." With many illustrations in color and in black and white. 8vo, cloth, . . net, $2.50

INDISPENSABLE TO EVERY BUYER OF RUGS.

That Oriental Rugs are full of poetry and beauty is one good reason that a poet should write about them. This book will consider not only the rug, but the Eastern carpet and saddle-bags, mats and pillows. The book will be illustrated with many colored plates of choice characteristic specimens, and the cover will show appropriate Persian designs. The publishers will offer it as a handsome and most artistic volume, and yet at a very modest price compared with anything else on the same subject.

HOMES AND THEIR DECORATION

By LILLIE HAMILTON FRENCH. With over 100 illustrations by Katharine C. Budd, and numerous photographs. 8vo, cloth, ... net, $3.00

FOR ALL HOME DECORATORS.

In this book both houses and apartments are considered, and plans suggested for their treatment, as a whole and in detail. Special attention is paid to the arrangement of different interiors, to the proper decoration of the window and the fireplace, and to questions of color. Color schemes to be used on the walls, and in the choice of textiles and hangings are submitted. Diagrams are given, indicating various positions for furniture in a room, the aim being to show how parlors and libraries, which are exactly alike, as they are in modern apartments and in old-fashioned brown-stone and brick houses, may be made to have an individuality, a character of their own.

IN THE PALACES OF THE SULTAN

By ANNA BOWMAN DODD, author of "Cathedral Days," "Three Normandy Inns," etc. Large 8vo, with illustrations in half-tone and photogravure, . . net, $4.00

FULNESS OF THE ORIENT.

The many readers of Mrs. Dodd's books will eagerly welcome this new important volume of hers. Mrs. Dodd had unusual opportunities to see the Sultan, his court and his palaces from the inside, since, as the guest of General Horace Porter, United States Ambassador to Paris, she, together with General Porter and his party, was received by the Sultan at his court, dined with him, and was personally conducted through his immense private domain, consisting of miles of palaces and parks.

OUTLINES OF THE HISTORY OF ART

By WILHELM LUBKE, author of "History of Architecture," "History of the Renaissance in France," etc. Translated from the latest German editions. Edited, REVISED AND MUCH ENLARGED BY RUSSELL STURGIS. Illustrated, 2 vols., large 8vo, cloth. Probably, ... net, $10.00

A STANDARD WORK.

Lübke's "History of Art" has long been the standard book on this subject, notable for accuracy in the statements made, and a desire to be temperate and just, with an excellent sense of proportion that rarely permits the author to give undue consideration to any one portion of his subject. This book is of such importance that the publishers have retranslated the last German edition and, at great expense, entirely reset the book, adding to it many illustrations. In addition, the work has now been thoroughly revised and brought up to date, both editorially and pictorially, by Mr. Sturgis, who has also supplied much valuable additional matter.

The illustrations are a special feature, there being nearly 1000 text pictures, over 100 full-page illustrations and several full-pages in color.

FICTION

THE SHERRODS

By GEORGE BARR McCUTCHEON, author of "Graustark" and "Castle Craneycrow." 12mo, cloth, with illustrations by C. D. Williams, ... $1.50

BY THE AUTHOR OF "GRAUSTARK."

A strong and realistic story of life in Clay County, Indiana, beginning with the idyllic love of the young farmer-artist and the girl teacher, which culminates in a marriage that brings perfect bliss in spite of poverty and hard work; the only cloud upon their horizon is the presence in the neighborhood of the rejected lover, the villain of the story. The development of an intricate plot, worked out in a masterly manner, keeps the interest of the reader at the highest tension, as one follows the awakening of ambition in the young artist, his life in Chicago, where he rises rapidly in his profession, his first downward step in concealing his marriage from his friends and associates, the frightful entanglement into which his weakness leads him, up to the tragical end, which develops the villain into a hero and throws a pall over the lives of two beautiful and loving women.

THE BLACK SHILLING

By AMELIA E. BARR, author of "The Bow of Orange Ribbon," "The Maid of Maiden Lane," "A Song of a Single Note," etc. 12mo, cloth, illustrated, . . $1.50

A TALE OF BOSTON TOWNS.

The story opens in old Boston, Lincolnshire, but soon passes to Boston, Mass., in the "reign" of the Mathers and about the period of the witchcraft delusions. The era and location are most interesting, and Mrs. Barr's many readers will look forward with pleasure to the publication of her new story.

KATHERINE FRENSHAM

By BEATRICE HARRADEN, author of "Ships That Pass in the Night," "The Fowler," etc. 12mo, cloth, ... $1.50

A CHARMING LOVE STORY.

A study of character development that will appeal to the sympathies of a large class of readers. The hero is a man of thirty-five who has been thwarted in his life work by the incompatibility of his wife, whose influence follows and nearly wrecks his sensitive nature even after her death. Fortunately for him and his son, a boy of twelve "Katherine Frensham" comes into their lives and not only brings them into harmony with each other, but with her love rounds out and completes a life that was dangerously near to shipwreck.

THE GOLDEN FETICH

By EDEN PHILLPOTTS, author of "Children of the Mist," "The Farm of the Dagger," etc. Illustrated. 12mo, cloth, ... $1.50

THRILLING ADVENTURE.

A story full of adventure and excitement. The "Golden Fetich" becomes the property of a young man who, at the death of his father, a celebrated and a wealthy man, finds himself reduced to comparative poverty. He decides to invest his small capital in fitting up an expedition to discover the treasure to which the "Golden Fetich" points the way. This leads him into the heart of Africa and thrilling experiences of various kinds. Mr. Phillpotts is a master of the art of story telling, and in addition he has had unusual opportunities of knowing the country in which the scene is laid.

IN OLD PLANTATION DAYS

By PAUL LAURENCE DUNBAR, author of "Folks from Dixie," "Candle-Lightin' Time," etc. Illustrated. 12mo, cloth, ... $1.50

DUNBAR'S NEW NOVEL.

Mr. Dunbar is unsurpassed in his ability to set before the reader "the tricks and the manners" of the colored people in the South "befo' de wa'." His new book is a companion volume to "Folks from Dixie," and his work is too widely and favorably known to need description.

TEA-TABLE TALKS

By JEROME K. JEROME, author of "The Second Thoughts of an Idle Fellow," "Paul Kelver," etc. Liberally illustrated. 12mo, cloth, ... $1.00 list

A COLLECTION OF HUMOROUS ESSAYS.

Whether or not one likes Mr. Jerome's longer books of fiction, or his more serious novels, is a question of taste; but there can be no doubt that he is easily to-day the foremost English writer of short, humorous essays. His turn of mind is essentially comic, and the popularity of his earlier books goes on unabated. "Tea-Table Talks" is probably the most finished and humorous book of the kind we have had for a long time.

THE BRAZEN CALF

By JAMES L. FORD, author of "The Literary Shop," "Hypnotic Tales," etc. Illustrated. 12mo, cloth, ... $1.25

A CLEVER SATIRE.

Mr. Ford is a humorist, best known as the author of "The Literary Shop," an amusing satire on current literary conditions. In this book, however, Mr. Ford has chosen as the object of his satire that large and growing class of Americans who, with more money than they need, yet lack refinement and culture. It is their vulgarity and pretentiousness that he hits off so admirably in his new book.

THE YELLOW CRAYON

By E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM, author of "The Traitors," etc. Illustrated. 12mo, cloth. $1.50

AN INTENSELY INTERESTING NOVEL.

The great success of "The Traitors" last spring insures a large sale and eager demand for Mr. Oppenheim's new book, "The Yellow Crayon," especially as this book is more original and even more stirring than "The Traitors."

BARBE OF GRAND BAYOU

By JOHN OXENHAM, author of "God's Prisoner," "A Princess of Vascovy," etc. 12mo, cloth, illustrated, ... $1.50

A STORY OF UNUSUAL POWER.

The tale begins with a terrible tragedy which occurred on one Christmas Eve. Barbe was the daughter of the keeper of the Light on Grand Bayou, whose tall white shaft was her world. Here she grew up to glorious young womanhood with no friends but the sun, the moon and the stars. At the end of a fearful storm she rescued a shipwrecked mariner from certain death by her own unaided exertions and then a new world opened to her. The efforts of a rival to make way with Alain led to a series of adventures which are exciting in the extreme and so vividly described that they cannot be forgotten for many a day. After passing through trials well-nigh insupportable their mutual faith is rewarded and Alain rows his bride home "up a shimmering pathway of gold."

THE PATH OF STARS

By MARGARET CROSBY MUNN, author of "A Violin Obligato," etc. 12mo, cloth, $1.50

A MUSICAL NOVEL.

A story full of musical rhapsodies. romantic love, poetry, and passion perhaps of an intellectual kind. It deals with love in both its personal and its universal sense—the love between a man and a woman, and the love that passing through a human personality uplifts and helps to save the world.

AN APRIL PRINCESS

By CONSTANCE SMEDLEY. 12mo, cloth, ... $1.50

A DARINGLY FRESH AND ORIGINAL BOOK.

"At once original, engaging, delicately thought out and delightfully entertaining. We challenge any one to follow 'The Princess' through her wayward episodes, her volatile adventures, and her bright enjoyment of every minute of the day, without gaining the pleasures of refreshment, of delight and of amusement."

HONOR D'EVEREL

By BARBARA YECHTON, author of "Young Mrs. Teddy," "We Ten," etc. 12mo, cloth, illustrated, ... $1.50

THE BEST STORY MISS YECHTON HAS WRITTEN.

Miss Yechton has written many delightful stories, but there is an unusual charm about this one, the scene of which is laid in the land of her birth. The large family of children, of which Honor is the eldest sister, are so diverse in characteristics, the manner of life on the island of St. Croix is so graphically described in its different phases, the happenings range so naturally from comic to pathetic, that the reader is sure to put the book down with a sigh of regret.

BIOGRAPHICAL

MEMOIRS OF AN AMERICAN LADY

With Sketches of Manners and Scenes in America as they existed previous to the Revolution. By MRS. ANNE GRANT, author of "Letters from the Mountains," etc. With notes by James Grant Wilson. 8vo, cloth, ... net, $3.50 of the de luxe edition published two years ago.

A POPULAR REPRINT

This admirable memoir of Mrs. Schuyler first appeared in London in 1808, and was republished in this country during the following year. Numerous editions have been printed since that time in both countries, but the book has now for many years been out of print, having become so scarce that it was almost unobtainable.

A KING'S ROMANCE

By FRANCES GERARD, author of "The Romance of Ludwig II.," " A Grand Duchess and Her Court," etc. Probably, ... net, $4.00

THE STORY OF MILAN, FIRST KING OF SERVIA.

Servia, after repeated revolts from Turkish rule, finally achieved national independence in 1878, and the young reigning Prince, Milan Obrenovitch, was proclaimed King in 1882. In 1875 he married Natalie Ketchco, who quickly won the love of the Servians. In 1889, without any publicly known cause, he suddenly abdicated in favor of his son Alexander, then twelve years old, and went to live in Paris, where he was educated. In 1888 he divorced Queen Natalie, though they were nominally reconciled and the decree of divorce was annulled in 1893. His reign was a stormy one politically, and as a man his moral delinquencies became public scandals. He died in Vienna in 1901.

A COURT IN EXILE

By the MARCHESA VITELLESCHI. In 2 vols. With numerous illustrations. 8vo, cloth. Probably, ... net, $6.50

THE ROMANCE OF THE STUARTS.

The first volume begins with the flight of James II. to France in 1689, and ends with the return to France of his grandson, Charles Edward, the Pretender, after his terrible defeat on Culloden Moor in 1746. The second volume covers the Prince's incognito for eighteen years, his marriage to the Princess Louisa, and his life in Italy, where he died in 1788.

THE SAILOR KING: WILLIAM IV.

His Court and His Subjects. By J. FITZGERALD MOLLOY, author of "The Queen's Comrade," "Romance of the Irish Stage," etc. Illustrated, 2 vols., 8vo, net, $6.50

A PERIOD OF UNUSUAL INTEREST.

Entertaining pictures are given, not alone of the Court and its courtiers, but of the numerous men and women whose genius, wit or eccentricity made them remarkable.

HISTORY AND BELLES-LETTRES

VARIED TYPES

By G. K. CHESTERTON, author of "The Defendant," "The Wild Knight," etc. 12mo, cloth. Probably, ... net, $1.20

THE MOST TALKED-OF CRITIC IN LONDON.

Mr. Chesterton is a literary critic who has won a brilliant success in England during the past two years. He has a distinctive style and a riotous gift of paradox. He is regarded as one of the few interesting writers in contemporary literature, with something to say, and a future of golden possibility, and the power of compelling a jaded and tired age to listen to his voice. He crashes in upon the orderly scheme and the accepted wisdom and scatters them to the winds. His new book contains essays on Charlotte Brontë, William Morris and his school, the optimism of Byron, Pope and the art of satire, Stevenson, Tolstoy, Savonarola, etc.

The Interference of Patricia

The New Orleans Picayune says:

"Not since the palmy days of Bret Harte has there been a Western story so saturated with color, so vibrant with the tense life of a climate which excites to excess of emotion and action. Miss Bell is invariably entertaining, and has never written a dull line in her life, but one is inclined to think this her masterpiece."

CARMAN'S FIRST BOOK OF PROSE

The Kinship of Nature

A VOLUME OF ESSAYS

By BLISS CARMAN

Author of "Pipes of Pan," "Low Tide on Grand Pré," etc.

One volume, library 12mo, cloth decorative, gilt top, with a photogravure portrait of Mr. Carman. $1.50.

This book is the author's first published volume of prose writing, and as such will be received with unusual interest. There is little doubt but that Mr. Carman will prove himself as brilliant and sympathetic an essayist as he has shown himself to be a poet of grace and genius.

A Parish of Two

By HENRY GOELET MCVICKAR and PRICE COLLIER (Percy Collins)

THE BROOKLYN DAILY EAGLE:

"'A Parish of Two'—it was a parish of one until the old love came into it—is an unusual book, unusual both in conception and execution. The book should make a strong appeal to those readers who find as much pleasure in the artist's skill as in the dramatic quality of the story he tells."

The Spenders

By HARRY LEON WILSON, author of "The Lions of the Lord"

55th THOUSAND

"Absolutely to be enjoyed is it from the first page to the last."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Master of Warlock

By GEORGE CARY EGGLESTON, author of "Dorothy South," "A Carolina Cavalier"

"Like all Mr. Eggleston's stories, the atmosphere is clean and wholesome, the sentiment pure."—Brooklyn Times.

The Lions of the Lord

A TALE OF THE OLD WEST

By HARRY LEON WILSON, author of "The Spenders"

"The 'Lions of the Lord' is one of the most powerful, purposeful, and instructive novels of the season, and is a credit to American literature."—Boston Herald.

The Captain

GENERAL GRANT IN FICTION

By CHURCHILL WILLIAMS, author of "J. Devlin — Boss"

"Such a good book is a credit to American literature. To have recognized General Grant's true personality and to have placed it in such fitting scenes without sacrificing historical accuracy is a notable achievement."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Cliveden

By KENYON WEST

NEW YORK SUN:

"It is indeed a dramatic story, but it is also of a careful and nice literary quality. . . . We shall not undertake even to suggest the numerous matters of interest in the story, an unusually well-written one, which the reader will be bound to like."

Sally, MRS. TUBBS

By MARGARET SIDNEY, author the Famous "Pepper" books.

An amusing and sympathetic study of a New England woman of humble station, but noble character. "Sally" reaches the prinnacle of her ambition in her marriage to "'Bijah Tubbs," and thereafter, despite many trials, proves a blessing to him, as well as a source of strength and comfort to her friend and patroness, Violet Van Wyck, about whom centres a charming love-story. Postpaid, $1.00.

THE Social Cockatrice

By FREDERICK W. ELDRIDGE

"An unusually clear knowledge of social conditions enables the author of 'A Social Cockatrice' to write a story with a moral purpose whose trumpet-call has no uncertain tone. It is a brilliant picture of a brilliant woman, set in a frame of no mediocre workmanship."—Boston Transcript.

DARREL

of THE BLESSED ISLES

By IRVING BACHELLER, Author of "EBEN HOLDEN" and "DR'I and I"

60th THOUSAND

HARRIET PRESCOTT SPOFFORD:

"I have read of late few more delightful stories than 'Darrel of the Blessed Isles.' Entirely fresh in conception and plot, it leads one with gentle but absorbing interest and with skilfully managed surprises and incidents. There is a sweetness and strength about the whole book rarely found in the novels of the day, and in its own genre unsurpassed."

HON. B. B. ODELL, Governor of New York:

"I enjoyed every page of 'Darrel.'"

NEWELL DWIGHT HILLIS:

"'Darrel of the Blessed Isles' is at once the latest and the best of Mr. Bacheller's stories. It is an idyl of love and the story of a great happiness that came through a great self-sacrifice and expiation. Mr. Bacheller has clothed life's simplicities with enduring charm and beauty, and made honor and self-sacrifice, truth and love, seem the only things that are really worth while."

CYRUS NORTHROP, President of University of Minnesota:

"The story commands unflagging interest in the development of its plot, and yet the plot is not the most essential or the most attractive part of the work. The daily acts of unselfishness performed by a soul purified and ennobled by suffering are even more striking than the plot."

GORGO

A ROMANCE OF OLD ATHENS

By CHARLES K. GAINES, Ph.D., Professor of Greek in St. Lawrence University.

GORGO is the naïve and captivating heroine, naming the book, beloved by Theramenes, the Athenian, whose stormy career in politics, love, and war furnishes the motive of the tale. The story is laid in a period covering the time of the great Peloponnesian conflict, and abounds in striking war pictures. Conspicuous historic figures of the time, such as Socrates and Alcibiades, are delineated in a manner singularly lifelike.

A PARISH OF TWO

BOSTON HERALD says:

"ONE of the most brilliant pieces of fiction of the year is 'A Parish of Two,' by Henry Goelet McVickar, a well-known society man, and Percy Collins, a pseudonym which is said to be that of the society leader, Price Collier, of New York. The book is far above the average in conception and execution, and will be widely read and discussed because of its strong and unique plot, its sparkling epigrams, and the boldness of its attack on the morality of the weaker sex."

The Middle Course

A Contemporary Romance

A Powerful Story of Society, Cleverly Told

This novel is recommended as one of those novels which are worth reading for entertainment and repay reading for their moral. It is sweet, pathetic and natural; also, it is well told—the characters live, their feelings palpitate.—Brooklyn Eagle.

By this story Mrs. Bigelow at once attains a very high place as a writer.—Boston Globe.

It is a problem with many issues, worked out satisfactorily.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A well-written novel, the dialogue is good and well worked out.—N. Y. Evening Sun.

The volume is cleverly written.—Harry Thurston Peck in N. Y. American.

A truly notable book . . . worthy indeed of unusual praise.—Philadelphia Record.

The Master Chivalry

By MARGARET LEE

Author of "Divorce," etc., etc.

The story deals with a social question of intense interest—of a man's daring and magnanimous reparation of another's wrong in the case of a lovely and high-bred girl. The theme strikes a new note in fiction, and the situations are dramatic and stirring.

Miss Lee has written many successful novels, notably "Divorce," the praise of which by Mr. Gladstone, some years ago, aroused discussion of the work throughout the world. This latest story is the strongest she has ever written.

—Philadelphia Item.

The tale is of excellent literary style and possesses considerable interest.

The CONGRESSMAN'S WIFE

A Story of American Politics, by JOHN D. BARRY

Author of "A Daughter of Thespis."

The main motif is political, a new motif, by the way, that is beginning to supersede the historic one, for which let us give thanks. The scenes are laid first in Washington and then in New York, Congressman Briggs representing a metropolitan district; he gets into the toils of a lobbyist, Franklin West, and getting out of the toils costs him his re-election. Mr. Barry's knowledge of the "inside" of Washington life is most accurate.

The Shutters of Silence

The Romance of a Trappist

By G. B. BURGIN

Author of "Tamalyn's Ghost," etc.

This book contains a description at once sane and vivid, sympathetic and critical, of an institution the very name of which exercises a mysterious fascination on people of all the shades of thought—the Trappist Monastery of Mahota . . . This is, in many respects, a capital novel . . . . Here is an interesting, amiable amusing book never absurd, and never dull, in many ways original, and full of good mental cheer.—The London Times.

JAMES POTT & CO., New Books

Along Four-Footed Trails

Wild Animals of the Plains as I Know Them. By RUTH A. COOK. With numerous illustrations by Mabel Williamson.

12mo, cloth, $1.25 net (postage 1c.).

Miss Cook's long residence on the Western plains, intimate knowledge of their animal life, love of nature, and sympathetic insight into the ways and doings of wild animals eminently qualifies her for just such a work as this. The book is in the nature series, and has a decided Western atmosphere.

The Negro Problem

By BOOKER T. WASHINGTON, Principal of Tuskegee; W. E. BURGHARDT DUBOIS, PAUL LAURENCE DUNBAR, CHARLES W. CHESNUTT, and others.

12mo, cloth, $1.25 net (postage 8c.).

A series of articles by representative American Negroes of to-day. These articles have not been published previous to the issuing of this volume. No more interesting or important book has ever appeared upon this absorbing public question of the day.

Count Falcon of the Eyrie

A novel by CLINTON SCOLLARD. With frontispiece. 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

There is nothing "historical" about Mr. Scollard's new novel, "Count Falcon of the Eyrie." It is a romance pure and simple, a stirring tale of Italy in the days of passion and feud. While the atmosphere of the book is essentially romantic, a faithful picture is presented of many phases of Italian life in the Middle Ages.

A Short History of the Ancient Greek Sculptors

By HELEN EDITH LEGGE. With Introduction by Professor Percy Gardner. Illustrated. 12mo, cloth, $1.50 net (postage 14c.).

The "Author" Books

Edited by FRANCIS WHITING HALSEY. 55 illustrations, 3 vols., small 12mo, cloth, $3.75 net (postage 33c.). Three-quarter crushed levant, $7.50 net.

In selecting the authors it has been the aim of the editor to embrace such only as could be regarded as the best and most interesting of those who have reached distinction in contemporary literature, some sixty-five names being included in the three volumes.

Budapest, the City of the Magyars

By F. BERKELEY SMITH, author of "How Paris Amuses Itself," with numerous illustrations and pictures painted, drawn and photographed by the author and other well-known artists. 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

Its splendid modern civilization, which still retains plenty of the Oriental atmosphere make it one of the most unique peoples of Europe. Mr. Smith saw every side of Budapest; its surroundings, society, gaiety, its light and serious side; its art, architecture, hospitals, etc., but what is more important he gets at the true atmosphere and spirit of modern Hungary.

Nurse Norah

By ELLIOTT FLOWER, author of "Policeman Flynn." Illustrated by Fanny Y. Cory and Robert A. Graef. 12mo, cloth, $1.00.

Interested and amused readers of Mr. Elliott Flower's earlier work, "Policeman Flynn," will welcome this new volume.

The Tail of the Peacock

A book of travel in Morocco. By ISABEL SAVORY. 48 full-page illustrations.

$3.50 net (postage 19c.).

No more vivid and fascinating account of travel than these chapters, founded on personal experiences in Morocco, and called after the Moors, "The Tail of the Peacock," has recently appeared.

Paris in '48

By BARONESS BONDE. Cloth, $2.00 net (postage 12c.)

The letters composing this volume were written by the Baroness Bonde to a friend in London during the time of the French Revolution of 1848. Their writer was one of the most accomplished and charming women of the last century.

Charles James Fox

A Political Study by J. L. LeB. HAMMOND.

8vo, cloth, $2.00 net (postage 13c.).

Mr. J. L. Le B. Hammond's "Charles James Fox" is a political study of Fox and of the situation and problems of his day. It examines his part in the great transformation in English parties, and much attention is devoted to his attitude on the social and international questions.

Galileo. His Life and Work

By J. J. FAHIE, member of the Institute of Electrical Engineers, London. With portraits and illustrations. 8vo, cloth $5.00

Complete Illustrated Catalogue to be had for the asking.

NEW PUBLICATIONS OF

GOUPIL & CO., of Paris

Coupil's Paris "Salons," 1903

A review of the most remarkable Paintings and Sculptures exhibited by the "Société des Artistes Français" and the "Société Nationale des Beaux-Arts." Text by Maurice Hamel and Arsène Alexandre. English translation by Paul Villars. This year's edition will be issued in the same sumptuous style as the edition of 1902, and strictly limited to numbered De Luxe copies only, with both French and English Text. It is acknowledged to be the finest Art Annual published, and finds increasing favor among Bibliophiles, Art Collectors and its regular subscribers.

The illustrations consist of ONE HUNDRED FULL-PAGE PLATES and include:

Two Hand-Finished Water-Color Facsimiles, viz:

"PORTRAIT OF MME. HELENE CHAUVIN AND HER DAUGHTER." By A. FAIVRE. An exquisite portrait group with a charming landscape background.

"PORTRAIT OF MLLE. SOREL." By FRANÇOIS FLAMENG. A masterly portrait-picture of the well-known actress.

Two Remarque Artist Proof Etchings, viz:

"BANKS OF THE ALLIER." By H. HARPIGNIES, the great master of landscape. Etched by G. GAREN, the well-known engraver.

"GLEANERS." By L. A. LHERMITTE, who is unsurpassed in depicting scenes of French peasant life. Etched by G. GAREN.

Also a Proof Before Letters of the Portrait of Albert Dürer After Himself. From the Plate by J. PATRICOT, the celebrated engraver, belonging to the "Gazette des Beaux-Arts," which was exhibited in the "Salon."

All the above make handsome framed pictures, and as such are worth more than the price of the entire book.

Intending subscribers should secure their copies at once, as both of this year's very limited De Luxe Editions will soon be out of print.

THE YELLOW VAN

By RICHARD WHITEING
Author of "No. 5 John Street"

In this novel Mr. Whiteing does for the rural districts of England what his early book "No. 5 John Street," did for the city of London. The contrast between the life of the great estate-owners of England and that of their tenants in the country villages is the motive of the story. It is a book to set men to thinking,—and debating. 12mo, 400 pages. Price, $1.50.

PA GLADDEN: The Story of a Common Man

By ELIZABETH CHERRY WALTZ

"Pa Gladden" is one of the most original and entertaining characters in recent fiction. The story of his singular experience in a remote community has a strange fascination. WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.

☞ The prices of net books published under the rules of the American Publishers' Association are preceded in this list by a double asterisk , and the word net follows the price. The prices of fiction (not net) published under the rules are preceded by a dagger †. The prices of net books not covered by the rules, whether published by members of the American Publishers' Association or not, are preceded by a single asterisk, and the word net follows the price. ☜

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p., in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no price, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

INDEX TO FALL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

In this list publishers' announcements are indexed by author, title or subject and series. Titles already recorded in THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY have been generally excluded. The cumulated "Reference List of New Publications, January-August," published September 12, and the present index of announcements of books to be published during the fall and winter, include a record of all books of which we have received information since January 1. We shall be pleased to have word of omissions of published works at once, in order that they may be included in the "Reference List of New Publications, January-September," which will be issued October 10.

Where binding is not stated the books are generally understood to be in cloth binding; "bds.," particularly in the department of Juvenile fiction, generally means illuminated or fancy board covers.

Fuller information of the books announced will be found in the publishers' advertising pages, index to which is given on page 525.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

SEPTEMBER 26, 1903.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications. All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers depend on the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY solely for their information. The Record of New Publications of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the material of the "American Catalogue" and so forms the basis of trade bibliography in the United States.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

THE FALL OUTLOOK.

THE busy season is again at the door and the outlook seems to be decidedly encouraging. Reports from the travellers are naturally enthusiastic, but even the most conservative and pessimistic this year take a hopeful view of the fall outlook. From the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Commerce at Washington, also comes the assurance that the present year is maintaining the prosperous conditions which characterized last year. "With few exceptions," the Bureau of Statistics claims, "the volume of trade has equalled that of last year, and in some instances has exceeded it." It is particularly gratifying to learn that there is no evidence of a general recession in commercial activities corresponding to the extraordinary shrinkage in speculative value. That is, the disturbances in the stock market have not materially affected manufacture as, of course, they are impotent in controlling the abundant harvests of the farmer. The West and South are rejoicing in riches of the field equal, if not beyond, those of the last two or three marvellously prosperous years.

To meet the probable demands upon the bookseller during the coming months, the publishers have been well nigh as lavish in their preparations as nature. The harvest of books which will be presented this year to the bookseller has never been so large. Year by year the classics and standards are furnished more and more understandingly edited and more and more fittingly dressed, approximately to what the Frenchman properly calls the édition définitive. In the departments of science, education, religion and travel, and in juvenile literature the knowledge and liberality of the publisher is this year specially noticeable. Fiction, of course, outnumbers every other one branch of literature, and some particularly attractive items are promised.

Some of the names endeared by time are missing this year. Frank Stockton, Richard Henry Stoddard, Charles Godfrey Leland, E. L. Godkin, Paul du Chaillu, John H. Shorthouse, B. L. Farjeon, Frederick Farrar, Max O'Rell, William E. Henley, James Whistler and Phil May have laid down their pens and pencils and will write no more. Their last writings, and works about them, however, will appear for the last time among announcements of forthcoming books. These belong chiefly in the departments of biography, history, art and literature, and these departments are full of books of promise and keen anticipation.

The Index to Fall Announcements which covers seventy pages of this issue, folio 529 to 598, shows what the publishers have done. Let the coming season show what the energy and enterprise of the bookseller is capable of. The conditions are favorable, and we are all responsible for the use we make of them.

THE GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE.

"THE multiplicity of controversies in the Government Printing Office from time to time," according to the Washington correspondent of the New York Times, "has suggested that the office might be administered with more gratifying results if it were placed in some one of the executive departments. The difficulty over the status of Assistant Foreman Miller has emphasized this opinion of late, and it is said on good authority that the President has concluded that it would be wise to place the office in the Department of Commerce. This will make Secretary George B. Cortelyou the executive official in control of the office and lead to a number of changes in the method of administering the work of the printing office.

"This decision is the result of the investigation of the special committee which has been looking into the working of the office and several other bureaus. It is believed that the change will not only dispose of the labor troubles, but bring about certain economies which have been demanded for many years. Different bureaus from time to time attempt to get printing done at the Government office in competition with outside concerns. It almost invariably results that the Government Printing Office is underbid by the outside concerns."

BOOKSELLERS IN NEW YORK ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO.

One hundred years ago the man of letters in New York City who was anxious to secure the latest volume from London or a printed sermon or oration delivered by one of his own countrymen would invariably visit the booksellers' shops, to be found on Maiden Lane and Pearl Street. On those two thoroughfares, from 1800 to 1825, were fourteen bookstores, one-half the number then doing business in New York. Ten were on Pearl Street, making that street unmistakably the literary headquarters of the town. The newspapers of 1800 give us the names of twenty-eight persons who were book publishers and dealers, to a greater or less extent. A few advertised their wares liberally, but the majority were content with an occasional few lines, or eagerly called attention to the publication of a pamphlet or book of local interest.

Among these early purveyors of literature are a few names that have attained more than the ordinary limits of remembrance. There was Evert Duyckinck, at 110 Pearl Street, near Old Slip, with an entrance also on Water Street, a miscellaneons tradesman in his early years, but who later made a specialty of books, a fact which undoubtedly had its influence upon his sons and led them to compile their thorough but not absolutely perfect "Cyclopædia of American Literature."

William Dunlap, artist, theatrical manager and author, was managing the Park Theatre that had been opened late in 1798. Kotzebue's German plays were the rage of the town a century ago, and in February Dunlap advertised his translations of those plays at thirty-seven and a half cents each.

Two promiment editors whose papers had been suspended were making their living as book dealers—Hugh Gaine and William Cobbett. The former succeeded much better than the latter, for in June, 1800, Cobbett shook off the dust of his tumultuous experiences and sailed for England, leaving his business in the hands of John Ward Fenno, who a few years before had published a newspaper in Philadelphia. Before the Revolution Gaine was the proprietor of a successful newspaper known as the New York Mercury. He was anxious to enlist on the winning side, and after several clever monœuvres decided that the British had ultimate victory in their hands, and his newspaper was continued as a Tory publication. Gaine found himself in unexpected difficulty at the close of the war, and was obliged to petition the legislature for permission to remain in New York. He kept a bookstore and general printing office until his death, in 1807, at 148 Pearl Street, (Hanover Square,) better known in those days as the "Sign of the Bible." His own sign years before had been the "Bible and Crown," but for obvious reasons the crown had been taken down after the British troops left New York.

Cobbett was well known to the reading public one hundred years ago, for the vituperation of his Porcupine's Gazette had made the editor hated with an intensity deeper perhaps than had been shown for any other wielder of the pen. His two years as a Philadelphia editor were full of troublesome experiences, and when Dr. Rush won a libel suit against him, carrying with it $5000, Cobbett abandoned the town in which he had neither enjoyed nor given any brotherly love. He came to New York, and lost no time in opening a bookshop at 141 Water Street, near Hanover Square, and was a prominent advertiser on January 1, 1800. He published the "Court Calendar," and soon began that series of pamphlets known as the "Rush Light," in which, among other things, he continued to hold Dr. Rush up to ridicule.

Where the Drexel building now stands, on the corner of Wall and Broad Streets, was a popular bookstore kept by John Furman, who enlarged his business by taking in Samuel C. Loudon as a partner, and purchasing the entire stock of Alexander Somerville. Loudon originally succeeded Hodge & Shober and Shober & Loudon, and for some years before his association with Furman kept a bookstore at 5 Water Street.

The name of Caritat was one of the most prominent in the book world of New York for many years. He kept a large store at 133 Broadway. His advertisement on January 14, 1803, reads: "This day is published and will be delivered gratis to subscribers and purchasers a supplement to the catalogue of H. Caritat's general and increasing Circulating Library and Bookstore."

The names of T. & J. Swords, of 99 and 160 Pearl Street, will be found in many books published at that time. They printed many books for their own sale and for other dealers who did not keep a press. Later the firm became Stanford & Swords, and was located at the corner of Liberty Street and Broadway. After Gaine's death they acquired the bulk of his business, which eventnally passed into the hands of E. P. Dutton & Co.

Another popular bookman was George F. Hopkins, who for several years printed The Commercial Advertiser. Hopkins's store, at 118 Pearl Street, was known as "Washington's Head." He published many of the orations delivered after the death of Washington, and later published a collection of his writings. The store of John Low, at 332 Water Street, was known as "Shakespeare's Head," from a fine wooden figure of the poet that ornamented the building. Edward Belden, a nephew of Noah Webster, did a general publishing business at 40 Pine Street, in connection with his editorial management of The Commercial Advertiser. Dr. James Church published medical works at 137 Front Street, and Benjamin Gomez, of 9 Maiden Lane, combined with bookselling the speculative delights of retailing lottery tickets.

Peter A. Mester, of 107 Pearl Street, and T. B. Jansen & Co., of 248 Pearl Street, were prominent in the trade and kept excellent stores. Others in the centre of activity were Samuel Campbell, 124 Pearl Street; John Rebout, 358 Pearl Street; S. Stephens, 165 Pearl Street; Brown & Stanolany, 164 Water Street; T. S. Arden, 186 Pearl Street, and David Longworth, near the Park Theatre, on Park Row. The latter published many fine engravings, and Shakespearean lovers frequented his shop to look at the collection of Boydell's Shakespeare Gallery.

Among other booksellers in the lower part of the city in the early part of the nineteenth century were Wiley & Halstead, the predecessors of the present firm of John Wiley & Sons, at 3 New Street; William B. Gilley, at 92 Broadway; Thomas Allen, at 16 Queen (Pearl) Street, near the Fly Market, now Fulton Market; Berry & Rogers, at 35 Hanover Square; William Durrell, at 198 Queen Street, who also did a flourishing printing business as late as 1823; Harrison & Purdy, at 3 Peck Slip; Robert Hodge, 37 King (Pine) Street, at the corner of Queen Street, who, in conjunction with Allen and Campbell, published a number of books; Robert McGill, at 212 Water Street; William Morton, at 231 Queen Street; John Reid, a printer and bookseller, at 17 Water Street; James Rivington, a son of Charles Rivington, who, from 1783 to 1802, conducted a book and tobacco shop at No. 1 Queen Street, making a specialty of "The Gentleman's Twist, a constant vade-mecum and hilarious Associate of the Cognoscenti and other Amateurs of our All-cheering delicious Morceau;" Bliss & White and Henry White, at 260 Broadway; Roe Lockwood, on Broadway, between Liberty and Cedar Streets; George Long, 71 Pearl Street; George Champley, the bookbinder, who kept a small bookstore under the American Hotel on Barclay Street; Jonathan Leavitt, the father of George A. Leavitt and brother-in-law of Daniel Appleton, who kept a bookstore at the corner of Broadway and Barclay Street; Behr & Kahl, who kept a German bookstore on Broadway, between Dey and Cortlandt Streets, and whose senior partner, Karl von Behr, in 1828, made an unsuccessful attempt to publish a booktrade paper—The American Book Circular; and Lanuze, Mendia & Co., at William Street and Exchange Place, who devoted themselves exclusively to publishing and selling Spanish books. Caleb Bartlett was the only bookseller up town, or, rather, out of town in those days, on the Boston Road, at what is now 76 Bowery.

CHEAP BOOKS.

Edmund Gosse, Augustine Birrell and several authors recently discussed the value to the reading public of cheap books. Mr. Gosse, in opening the discussion, according to the London Daily Chronicle, said that he knew that such a proposition was unromantic and would not appeal to the gallery. He laid down that what encouraged literature was not the number of books circulated and sold, but the love and worship they excited. The great disadvantage of extreme cheapness was that people ceased to realize the dignity and beauty of a book. People thought when they had made books as cheap as New Zealand mutton or imitation lace collars they had done a great thing, but all cheap things were disregarded, and the less we paid the less we valued. He should like books to remain expensive, though they should be among the things that were possible, and he went on to relate a story of how he saved up week by week as a child to buy for six shillings a copy of Coleridge's poems, and the pleasure and excitement of obtaining it he remembered to that day. They would guess he was no friend to sixpenny books, because they directly tended to lower the respect for books. He should like to see more of that passionate zeal for books which had been shown all through the ages by the real book lovers.

In conclusion, Mr. Gosse remarked that the enthusiasm for beauty and humanity that was an essential characteristic of the collecting of books could not be cultivated unless some little effort and sacrifice were necessary to obtain them, and the best interests of literature could not be encouraged by spending less on a book than on a pound of cherries.

Mr. Birrell then rose to oppose, and laughingly remarked that, as Mr. Gosse had brought forward no evidence, he would follow his example. One thing was certain—the Niagara of books would continue. He did not know whether the cause was the competition of publishers or the penury of authors, or the rapacity of the public; it always would be a mystery to him why so many books were published and apparently read. Literature was made for man. It was true the education of taste was a difficult problem; it would be much better and simpler if every one was born with good taste; but it did not do to attribute to cheap books faults that were written large on the faces of their fellow-creatures. They must have cheap books calculated to improve the taste, and he never saw a cheap copy of a masterpiece without feeling that it had a potentiality for good beyond the dreams of imagination. In conclusion he expressed the opinion that the multiplication of books in the cheapest form was in the best interests of literature.

THE CHINESE ALMANAC.

The Chinese almanac, according to the Cincinnati Enquirer, is the most largely circulated publication in the world, the copies printed and sold yearly reaching several millions. It is printed at Pekin and is a monopoly of the emperor, no other almanac being permitted to be sold in that country. Although containing reliable astronomical information, its chief mission is to give full and accurate information for selecting lucky places for performing all the acts, great and small, of every-day life. And as every act of life in China, however trivial, depends for its success on the time in which and the direction (point of compass) toward which it is done it is of the utmost importance that every one should have correct information at all times available to enable him so to order his life as to avoid bad luck and calamity and secure good luck and prosperity. So great is the native faith in its infallibility that not long since the Chinese minister to Germany refused to sail on a day which had been appointed because it was declared in the almanac to be unlucky.

THE GOVERNMENT "HORSE BOOK."

THE Government "horse book" has been revised under a joint resolution of the Fifty-seventh Congress, is now in press, and will soon be issued. This report was prepared in the Bureau of Animal Industry of the Department of Agriculture, and was first issued in 1890, and the edition was soon exhausted. Congress has from time to time ordered reprints for distribution by its own members exclusively, until the number issued has reached 500,000 copies. The resolution under which the present revision was made provides for the printing of 200,000 copies, 128,000 copies for the use of the House of Representatives, 64,000 copies for the use of the Senate, and 8,000 copies for the use of the Department of Agriculture. The allotment to the department is so small that it will have none for general distribution. New members of the present Congress will not be entitled to a quota.

The report has been revised either by the authors of the several articles or by veterinarians of wide reputation. An entirely new article on "The Examination of a Horse," by Dr. Leonard Pearson, State Veterinarian of Pennsylvania, is included; also a chapter on horse-shoeing, written by Dr. J. W. Adams, Professor of Surgery and Lecturer on Shoeing at the Veterinary Department, University of Pennsylvania.

OBITUARY NOTES.

MRS. ELIZABETH CHERRY WALTZ, a well-known novelist, died September 19 at Louisville, Ky. Mrs. Waltz for a number of years was connected with the Louisville Dispatch and then, as Sunday editor, with the Courier-Journal. Among the best known of her magazine stories are "The White Turkey," "Redemption," "Mystery Play," and "Praying Match." Her first book, "Pa Gladden, or, the Story of a Common Man," will be published by the Century Company next month.

PROFESSOR ALEXANDER BAIN, LL.D., Lord Rector of the Aberdeen University, died at Aberdeen on September 18. Professor Bain was born at Aberdeen, Scotland, in 1818, and was graduated from Marischal College in 1840. In 1860 he was appointed professor of logic in the University of Aberdeen, and in 1881 he was elected lord rector. He was a regular contributor to the Westminster Review since 1840. Among his published works are an edition of Parley's "Moral Philosophy," "The Senses and Intellect," "The Emotions and the Will," "The Study of Character," a "Manual of English Composition and Rhetoric," "Mental and Moral Science," "Logic," "Mind and Body," and several text books on astronomy, electricity, etc.

CHARLES LOWELL WOODWARD, for many years in the old book business at 78 Nassau Street, New York, died September 18, at his home, 61 Union Street, Jersey City, N. J., after a protracted illness. Mr. Woodward, who was in his seventy-first year, opened his book shop in Nassau Street some time in 1875, and issued his first catalogue in February, 1876. It was an octavo of 32 pages, and was entitled as follows: "Inventory of a few old books and pamphlets, mostly home-made and picked up in the neighborhood, for sale at starvation figures quoted by Charles L. Woodward, Book Peddler, Up-Stairs in a back room, 78 Nassau Street, New York." In that back room he did business until early this spring, when his infirmities confined him to his bed, and he closed out his stock by auction at Anderson's. We must defer until another issue an adequate description of his life and work.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

THE REV. DR. MADISON PETERS has taken charge of the North Broad Street Baptist Church, Philadelphia.

MISS EVELYN WHITAKER, whose novel, "Gay," will be brought out this fall by Little, Brown & Co., has been persuaded to acknowledge the authorship of "Miss Toosey's Mission."

"HIAWATHA," the popular piece of dance music, was written and composed by Charles N. Daniels, of Kansas City, and has already netted him $10,000. It was published under the pseudonym of "Neil Moret."

IBSEN has written to Miss May Shaw who played in "Ghosts," last spring, that the reports of his ill health are unfounded. He says he has never been in better health in years and that he is hard at work on another drama.

ELINOR GLYN, the author of "The Visits of Elizabeth," has nearly finished her new book, which will be a little volume, full of amusing maxims and reflections, entitled "The Damsel and the Sage." Harper & Brothers will publish this book in this country.

THE Abbé Klein, who holds the chair of higher literature in the Catholic University of Paris, is a guest at the University of Notre Dame at Richmond, Ind. He will gather material for a new book while in this country. It will be written when he returns to France, and will deal with the relations of church and state in America.

DR. E. E. HALE and members of his family —E. E. Hale, Jr., Arthur, Herbert, and the late Robert B. Hale—are the authors of "Ballads of New England History," begun more than twenty years ago and continued intermittently as a diversion. It is soon to be published by Little, Brown & Co. and will be illustrated by Miss Ellen Hale, Philip Hale, and Miss Lillian Hale.

Le Temps prints the following letter from Jules Verne to one of his friends that will no doubt interest his many admirers in this country: "I cannot bring myself to believe that I am blind, notwithstanding the statements in the newspapers. I accordingly take up the pen for the purpose of letting you know that there is no truth in such statements. There was a beginning of cataract on the right eye, and no more. But if I were obliged to read all the letters sent to me on this subject assuredly my sight would be weakened, and in all likelihood blindness would result. Thanks for your remembrance and a warm grasp of the hand from one of your oldest friends."

GERALDINE BONNER, author of "To-morrow's Tangle," to be issued next month by Bobbs-Merrill Co., was born on Staten Island, N. Y. She was trained by her Canadian father from her earliest years as a writer. He had been educated in France and was editorial writer on the Herald under James Gordon Bennett. While still in her teens Miss Bonner was sent from the mining camps of Colorado to New York as reporter for the San Francisco Argonaut. Short stories over her signature have appeared regularly in Harper's Magazine, Lippincott's, Collier's Weekly and other periodicals. She is convinced of the dramatic possibilities of California city life and has already worked good material into her first long story entitled "Hard Pan."

BIBLIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

THE AMERICAN LIBRARY ASSOCIATION, Publishing Board, expects to bring out early in 1904 an "Index of Portraits," edited, under the direction of William Coolidge Lane, of the Harvard University Library, by Nina E. Browne, Secretary of the Publishing Board. The index will contain upwards of 10,000 references to portraits in periodicals, illustrated works and other printed collections contributed by collaborators in all parts of the country.

BUSINESS NOTES.

ATLANTA, GA.—James F. Meegan, who, for a number of years conducted a second-hand book business at 11 West Alabama Street, has formed a partnership with J. T. Doonan, under the firm name of J. T. Doonan & Co. They will make a specialty of standard, choice and rare books.

CAMDEN, N. J.—The Tabard Inn Company, with a capitalization of $3,000,000, was incorporated last week in Trenton, N. J. The company is to carry on the business of publishers generally. The incorporators are F. R. Housell, William F. Erdeil and James F. Cotter, all of Camden.

CHICAGO, ILL.—Arthur J. Herbst, who has been identified as C. B. Leach, the buyer for the fraudulent Western Supply Company, was arrested in New York last week. As soon as legal difficulties can be overcome Herbst and two of his associates who were arrested with him will be taken to Chicago.

HUTCHINSON, KAN.—Charles E. Campbell, bookseller, has made an assignment.

NEW YORK CITY.—A list of the creditors of the Abbey Press was filed last week by Louis H. Moos, attorney for the petitioning creditors in bankruptcy. There are 140 creditors mentioned, whose claims aggregate about $90,000. A meeting of the creditors will be held at the office of Macgrane Cox, referee in bankruptcy, 63 Wall Street, on October 6, 10:30 A.M.

NEW YORK CITY.—The Amsterdam Publishing Company has been incorporated to print and publish books, etc. Capital, $1000. The incorporators are Louis H. Grieve, Robert Squire and John Phelps, all of New York.

NEW YORK CITY.—H. Mischke & Sons have opened a store at 115 East Twenty-third Street to deal in art works and prints.

NEW YORK CITY.—At a preliminary meeting of the New Amsterdam Book Company held on September 19, a committee of three, consisting of F. A. Flinn, Horace Rutter and James Stewart of the Ben Franklin Printing Co., was appointed to act with the creditors in continuing the business for six months beginning with October 1. The statement of liabilities and assets show the liabilities to be $15,596.84 and the assets as $22,446.57. The assets do not include the following items: copyrights, plates, etc., carried at $39,372.71, prints $100, and office furniture $200, the whole of which represents a total of $39,672.71, but which is carried at $25,000.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—We learn further in regard to the affairs of R. H. Merriam, that Mrs. Merriam, the debtor's mother, has offered to advance the money necessary to wind up the New York assignment for the benefit of the creditors. As the assets of the estate are insufficient to even pay the disbursements in connection with the accounting there will naturally be no dividends.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

THE item printed in our last week's issue of the Knowles copy of the Breeches Bible escaped the editor's blue pencil in respect to the statement that only a few copies of the Breeches Bible are extant. As every dealer in old books knows this is wide of the truth.

W. A. WILDE & CO. have in press an interesting story for young people by Eva Madden, entitled, "The Little Queen," which is based upon that famous incident in English and French history, the marriage of the little seven year old princess of the royal house of France to Richard II. of England.

DODD, MEAD & CO. have just ready John Oxenham's new novel, "Barbe of Grand Bayou"; also, "The Golden Fetich," a new story by Eden Phillpotts, many of the scenes of which are laid in the heart of Africa, where the hero has thrilling adventures. Both books are illustrated.

DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & CO. will publish on October 10, the "Memoirs" of the late Henri G. S. A. O. de Blowitz, Paris correspondent of the London Times. The volume will be fully illustrated from portraits, documents, etc. They will bring out towards the end of October Frederick Trevor Hill's new novel, "The Web," with illustrations by A. J. Keller.

HARPER & BROTHERS will publish on October 2 Robert W. Chambers's new juvenile, "Orchardland," a companion volume to his "Outdoorland," published last year. Mr. Chambers has originated in these books a new kind of nature study for children, in which sundry animals and insects tell their individual stories, in dialogue form, to two youngsters in a sunny orchard.

THE REV. DR. HUNTINGTON, of Grace Church, New York, two or three years ago printed, for private circulation and limited sale, a small collection of his poems under the title, "Sonnets and a Dream." This first edition rapidly disappeared and has been out of print for some time. The author will issue this month through Thomas Whittaker a second edition with a number of additional sonnets.

THE CENTURY COMPANY will publish during the fall Part II. of "Northern Central Syria and the Hauran," devoted to "Architecture," by Howard Crosby Butler. They also announce "Thirty Years of Musical Life in London," by Hermann Klein; the fifth edition of Jean Webster's "When Patty Went to College;" and several juveniles of which titles will be found in the Index to Fall Announcements in this issue.

EDWARD J. CLODE announces that there has been considerable delay in the publication of "The Life of Joseph Chamberlain," by S. H. Jeyes, owing to the biographer's desire to incorporate the Colonial Secretary's recent utterances on the tariff. The volume, which is now expected to be ready October 1, will present in sequence a detailed record of the Colonial Secretary's actions from his entry into municipal life at Birmingham.

THE BOBBS-MERRILL COMPANY will publish on October 10 "To-morrow's Tangle," a novel of the days of California's big bonanza kings, written by Geraldine Bonner, who showed in "Hard Pan" how well she understood the fascinations of California. The heroine is the innocent victim of the yesterday's misdoings of Jake Schakelton, one of the richest of these bonanza kings, and these have brought about "To-morrow's Tangle" with which the story deals.

J. F. TAYLOR & CO. are publishing a limited edition of "Thomas of Reading," a sixteenth century romance, supplemented by the ballads of Thomas Deloney. This volume has been edited by Charles R. Aldrich and Lucian S. Kirtland of Yale University. The text has been copied exactly from the oldest known edition of Deloney's romance, and is illustrated with reproductions of old cuts. It is printed upon hand-made Ruisdael paper and the edition is limited to 150 copies, with 50 special copies printed upon Japan vellum.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT COMPANY have arranged for the publication in this country of a "History of Theatrical Art in Ancient and Modern Times," by the distinguished Copenhagen actor, Karl Mantzius, translated by L. Von Cossel, with an introduction by William Archer. They also announce a volume on "Hypnotism," by J. Milne Bramwell, a well known writer on this subject, the historical part of which contains much that is interesting and little known; also, a revised edition of Wright's work on "Oils and Fats," the price of which has been increased to $7.50 net.

G. & C. MERRIAM CO. have again brought their Webster's "International Dictionary" up-to-date by carefully revising and entirely resetting the Gazetteer and the Biographical Dictionary in accordance with the latest census returns and the newest information. Many new names are added to the biographical dictionary. In addition to keeping the dictionary abreast of the times its typographical excellence has been preserved by the making of an entirely new set of plates for the whole book. Certain necessary changes have been made and many new words have been added.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & CO. publish to-day "American Tariff Controversies in the Nineteenth Century," by Edward Stanwood, author of "The History of the Presidency;" "A Reader's History of American Literature," by Thomas Wentworth Higginson and Henry W. Boynton; also, a new edition of the "Works of John Burroughs" in twelve volumes. In lighter vein they have just ready "Lesley Chilton," by Eliza Orne White; "The Pine Grove House," by Ruth Hall; and "The Young Ice Whalers," by Winthrop Packard, with illustrations from original photographs taken by the author.

D. APPLETON & CO. will issue in a week or two "Garden Mosaics," by Alfred Simson, a book of reflections "by one who loves flowers and trees, who has had opportunities to study them closely and diligently, and who gives hints as to their cultivation." There are many anecdotes in the volume, and also a number of illustrations. The book deals with the surroundings of a beautiful garden. They have acquired the American rights to "an unconventional biography" of Benjamin Disraeli, (Lord Beaconsfield,) by Wilfrid Meynell.

LITERATURE and the booktrade are to be represented in New York local politics this fall by Jacob A. Riis, who has been asked to stand for Richmond Hill, Queens borough; George Haven Putnam, who has been asked to accept the nomination of the Citizens Union for Alderman in the Nineteenth District; F. A. Ringler of the well known firm of engravers and electrotypers, who may run for Alderman in the Thirtieth District; and Thomas F. Martin, the newsdealer, whose friends are pressing his nomination as Sheriff on the "Fusion" ticket.

BAKER & TAYLOR COMPANY will publish on October 1 the life story of Owen Kildare, the author of "My Mamie-Rose," who, though born and reared in the Bowery, New York, and successively a newsboy, prize fighter and "bouncer" in various dives, unable to read or write until thirty years of age, worked his way up in the social scale, and educated himself so that he has become a man of refinement of speech whose skill and accuracy as a writer are a wonder to all who know him. They have in preparation a new edition of "The New Library of Poetry and Song," originally selected and edited by William Cullen Bryant; also, new issues of "Nature's Miracles," by Elisha Gray, formerly published by Fords, Howard & Hulbert.

FREDERICK A. STOKES COMPANY have in preparation a new volume by Carl E. Schultze, the creator of the now celebrated "Foxy Grandpa," which will be entitled "The New Adventures of Foxy Grandpa;" "The O'Ruddy," an Irish romance, which Stephen Crane had almost completed before his death, and which Robert Barr completed in accord with the wishes of Mr. Crane who before his death talked over the plot with Mr. Barr; "Our Friend the Horse," a practical guide of all that is known of every breed in the world, by Frank Townsend Barton; also, "The Old Furniture Book," by N. Hudson Moore, a study of the subject from 1662 down to the first quarter of the nineteenth century. They will publish at once "Rips and Raps," by L. de V. Matthewman, a collection of twentieth century wit and wisdom, with illustrations by Thomas Fleming.

CHARLES E. GOODSPEED, Boston, will publish in about two weeks "A New Year's Address to the Patrons of the Essex Gazette, 1828," with a letter hitherto unpublished, by John G. Whittier. The New Year's Address was one of Whittier's very early poetical efforts and is full of items of local interest. In the letter, the poet describes his personal appearance, and tells how he was first led to the path hallowed by the memory of Milton and Thomson. in pursuit of—"I scarcely know what—time alone must determine." The little volume is printed solely for those who would like to preserve this curiosity in their collections, and the edition will be limited to sixty copies. Mr. Goodspeed, in co-operation with D. B. Updike, proposes to publish a Merrymount edition of the works of Jane Austen in sixteen sixteenmo volumes if a sufficient number of subscribers will engage to take the work.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS will publish early in October "Colonel Carter's Christmas," F. Hopkinson Smith's new report on the doings of his delightful "Colonel Carter of Cartersville," in which he introduces all the old characters and two new ones; a new and very beautiful edition of Henry Van Dyke's "Little Rivers"; also, "Old English Doorways," a volume of pictures of examples from Tudor times to the present, from photographs taken by W. G. Davis, with text by H. Tanner, Jr., who also contributes thirty-four drawings and sketches. Among their promised importations are Newnes's Pocket Classics a new series of dainty sixteenmo volumes of which the initial one will be "The Cavalier in Exile," telling of the lives of the first Duke and Duchess of Newcastle, by Margaret, Duchess of Newcastle; "The Works of Henry Fielding," edited by James P. Brame of Edinburgh, in eleven volumes; a handsome "Pocket Carlyle" uniform with the Caxton series of which eleven volumes are ready; and "The Rossetti Papers, 1862-1872," an invaluable collection of pre-Raphaelite documents.

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY publishes this week forty books, of which the following are among the more popular: "World's Children," of which the text is written by Miss Dorothy Menpes, while the one hundred illustrations have been reproduced in colors from paintings, by her father, Mortimer Menpes; "American Railways," by Edwin A. Pratt, consisting partly of a number of articles published in the London Times early this year, the facts having been collected during a four months' tour of the United States last winter; "Mary of Magdala," the stage version used by Mrs. Minnie Maddern Fiske, translated by William Winter from the German by Paul Heyse; "In the Seven Woods," a new volume of poetry by W. B. Yeats; "The Literary Sense," a volume of bright and clever love stories, by E. Nesbit, author of "The Would-be-Goods;" "What to See in England," a guide to places of historical interest, natural beauty, and literary association, by Gordon Home, fully illustrated; "Highways and Byways in South Wales," by A. G. Bradley, with illustrations by Frederick L. Griggs; two new volumes in the beautiful Dent edition of Thackeray; "Supervision and Education in Philanthropy," by Jeffrey R. Brackett, President of the Board of Public Charities in Baltimore; a new edition of "Trapper Jim," by Edwyn Sandys, one of the best books ever written for boys on hunting, fishing, trapping, and camping; "The Care of a House," by T. M. Clark, the author of "Building Superintendence;" three volumes in the series of Pocket Classics—Macaulay's "Life of Samuel Johnson," Byron's "Shorter Poems," and Irving's "Life of Goldsmith;" also, "Blount of Breckenhow," a new novel by Miss Beulah Marie Dix, which is said to be constructed better as a story than any of the author's previous books.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted" book-trade subscribers are given the privilege of a free advertisement for books out of print, of five nonpareil lines exclusive of address, in any issue except special numbers, to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents a line, and amount should be inclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents a line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents a nonpareil line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

All other small, undisplayed, advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents a nonpareil line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

BOOKS WANTED.

☞ In answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal exclusively on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

☞ Write your wants plainly and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly" does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privilege of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay," booksellers should take the usual precaution, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.

Merry Hearts

By ANNE STORY ALLEN. With Frontispiece by ELIOT KEEN. 16mo, 75 cents.

Miss Allen's stories, notably "By the Favor of the Gods," in a recent Harper's Monthly, have won acceptance by our leading magazines. This book takes its title from the couplet in "A Winter's Tale,"—

"A merry heart goes all the day,
Your sad tires in a mile-a,"

and concerns certain episodes in the lives of two bachelor girls in New York, the one a painter of miniatures and the other a writer of idyllic tales. They pluckily wrest happiness from unpromising circumstances.

12th Impression The Lightning Conductor. 12mo, $1.50

An Anglo-American love-story with vivid scenes in Provence, Spain, and Italy.

The Bookman places this among the six best selling books in the United States.

The Most Important Contribution of the Day to the Literature of Art

By John La Farge

GREAT MASTERS

CONTENTS

Michelangelo Raphael Rembrandt Rubens
Velasquez Durer Hokusai

MR. LA FARGE is not only a great artist but a great writer as well. He brings to this work the varied sympathies of an extraordinarily many-sided nature. The "Outlook" gives this estimate of him:

"There is probably no other man using our language who could bring to the interpretation . . . . a more penetrating insight, a keener artistic divination, than Mr. La Farge. The articles are profound, searching, even subtle, but they are translated out of the terminology of a craft into the universal speech."

The making of the book is worthy of the text, and places it in a class quite apart from the usual style of art book. It is profusely illustrated with photographic plates of the great masterpieces, reproduced in the very best possible manner, and making a gallery of unusual richness in themselves.

Three-quarters crushed morocco, gilt tops, - - - - net, 8.00

There are many books about India, but for the most part they tell the reader too little or else are technical works or bulky ponderous volumes. Mr. Forbes-Lindsay's work, "India, Past and Present," within a moderate compass supplies a comprehensive view of one of the most ancient and interesting countries in the world, with accurate information as to its past and present condition and picturesque glimpses of its fascinating history.

It is written from a personal knowledge acquired during the author's years of residence in the different parts of the Indian Empire supplemented by a thorough study of the works of the best authorities. There is no other popular work covering the same ground and the reader will acquire a general idea of the whole country in its physical characteristics; its diversified and often magnificent scenery; its remarkable temples and palaces and other buildings; its antiquities; the many races by which it has been peopled; and its extremely interesting history.

Fiction

A Kidnapped Colony. By Mary Raymond Shipman Andrews, author of "Vive l'Empereur."

A jolly story of how a clever young American captured the governorship of an English colony and for several days ruled in place of the legitimate governor. The adventure, by the way, made and nearly spoiled a love affair. Illustrated. Ornamented Cloth, $1.25.

The Relentless City. By E. F. Benson, author of "Dodo," "The Book of Months," etc.

This new novel by the author of "Dodo" carries the reader into English and American society, the scenes being laid in London, New York and fashionable resorts in the two countries. The plot concerns the wedding of Lord Keynes, an English nobleman, to the heiress of an American family, recently become wealthy; the complications that follow are exciting. The story contains the keenest comments on English and American ways and social conditions. The work is on a par with Mr. Benson's best. Ornamented Cloth, $1.50.

A Candle of Understanding. By Elizabeth Bisland, author of "A Flying Trip Around the World," etc.

A story of the South which has its beginning in Mississippi just after the war, and its conclusion in New York at the present time. Ornamented Cloth, $1.50.

The Change of Heart. By Margaret Sutton Briscoe, author of "The Sixth Sense," etc.

These are six captivating stories by one of our best-known short story writers, whose cheerful optimism and genuine belief in the highest ideals make her romances at once inspiring and satisfying. Ornamented Cloth, $1.25.

Judgment. By Alice Brown, author of "The Mannerings," etc.

This is the story of a wife who, by the unconscious influence of her noble character, finally brought her husband to alter his stern conception of justice, and to see the true meaning of human charity. The crisis of their lives came through her heroic effort to save a young girl from the knowledge of certain behavior in the past of her betrothed, of which he had long repented. The story tells how the wife nearly sacrificed her own life to achieve this purpose, and how, through many strange complications in the lives of these people, truth and love finally triumphed. Illustrated by W. T. Smedley. Ornamented Cloth, $1.25.

The Maids of Paradise. By Robert W. Chambers, author of "Cardigan," etc.

Mr. Chambers's romances are probably the most satisfying of their kind now appearing in America. They carry one along with an irresistible sweep and whirl; the love scenes have charm, tenderness and a convincing reality that make them unique in contemporary fiction. Paradise is an idyllic French village, and the maids thereof live in the stirring days of the Franco-Prussian War. Fighting is rife through many of these pages, but the dominant note is love, and the romance is the happiest that the author has done. Illustrated by Castaigne and others. Ornamented Cloth, $1.50.

Our Lady's Inn. By J. Storer Clouston, author of "Adventures of M. D'Haricot."

This is a charming story by an author whose entertaining first book found many readers. It tells of the fortunes of young Barbara Chayne. Her experience in London—where for a time she passes for a man—is entertaining in the extreme. Ornamented Cloth, $1.50.

Dr. Lavendar's People. By Margaret Deland. author of "Old Chester Tales."

Similar to Miss Deland's "Old Chester Tales," these stories of a quiet old town and its quaint but lovable people are told with power, finesse and a masterly precision. Old Dr. Lavendar appears in the stories as the friend and father of his people, whose joys and sorrows are even as his own. Illustrated by Lucius Hitchcock. Ornamented Cloth, $1.50.

Hesper. By Hamlin Garland, author of "The Captain of the Gray Horse Troop," etc.

The love story of a gently bred girl, Ann Rupert, who renounces luxury to go to the far Western mountains with a delicate young brother. From a conventional life Ann is thus brought into association with resolute men—miners and ranchers—and as she realizes more and more the reality of this life and the artificiality of her social life in the past, her character expands. A miners' strike, high up on the mountain-peak amid the wildest scenery, makes a thrilling background for the wooing of Ann by Robert Raymond, a former Eastern man, now a miner. Amid the rude life of the settlement Ann's high courage and gentle breeding and Raymond's chivalrous devotion to her make a fascinating love episode. Life in a mountain mining camp is described in all its primitive vigor and disregard of conventions. A work of remarkable realism and dramatic intensity. Ornamented Cloth, $1.50.

The Damsel and the Sage. By Elinor Glyn, author of "Reflections of Ambrosine," "The Visits of Elizabeth," etc.

This is the story of a Damsel—the kind of damsel Mrs. Glyn set the fashion with in her famous "Visits of Elizabeth"—and a Sage who may or may not have been worthy of his name, according to the reader's own ideas. Ornamented Cloth, $1.25.

Letters Home. By William Dean Howells, author of "Questionable Shapes," etc.

Mr. Howells has told this exceedingly interesting story in letters written to their various homes by a group of people who are in New York for different reasons. These letters not only describe New York life from interesting and novel viewpoints, but place before the reader the facts of a series of complications which form the basis of this novel of the American metropolis. Uniform with Mr. Howells's works. Ornamented Cloth, $1.50.

The Ambassadors. By Henry James, author of "Daisy Miller," etc.

This is the story which has been running in the North American Review during a portion of the past year. It is a study of Americans abroad, such a study of men and women as only Mr. James is capable of making. Gilt Top, Uncut Edges, Cloth Wrapper, $2.00.

The Harvesters. By Aubrey Lanston.

A romance of the Court of George III. Although not historical, it paints a vivid picture of the court life of that period. Ornamented Cloth, $1.50.

The Ultimate Moment. By W. R. Lighton.

This novel is western in its locale, and tells the love story of one man and two women. Illustrated by A. I. Keller. Ornamented Cloth, $1.50.

Judith of the Plains. By Marie Manning, author of "Lord Alingham, Bankrupt."

A romance of the plains at the end of the big cattle days in Wyoming. Judith stands out against the background of cattle stealing, cattle stampeding, and lynching, a noble figure of a girl, throbbing with passion and life, dominating the action of the tale, and carrying it to a thrilling climax. Ornamented Cloth, $1.50.

The Proud Prince. By Justin Huntly McCarthy, author of "If I Were King," "Marjorie," etc.

A new romantic novel founded on the legend of King Robert of Sicily, an arrogant ruler, who defied the priest's warning that "the unrighteous shall be debased and the pure in heart shall be exalted." He fell into a deep sleep and lost his throne. Upon this foundation Mr. McCarthy has constructed a vivid romance, in which a beautiful woman is the means of King Robert's eventual change of heart. This novel has also been dramatized for Mr. Sothern. Ornamented Cloth, $1.50. (Imprint of R. H. Russell.)

The Masterfolk. By A. C. McFall.

A story of London and Paris, and of the life of "Bohemia" in both. Oliver Baddlesmere goes to Paris to make a career, taking with him as his bride a lovely English girl, Betty Modeyne. Oliver in the course of his work is drawn into a vortex of gayety. Betty runs away. Finally their problems are solved. Ornamented Cloth, $1.50.

Sister Joan of the Cross. By Matilde Serao, author of "The Ballet Dancer," "The Land of Cockayne," etc.

Strange experiences of a homeless Italian nun turned out into the world form the basis of this story. Ornamented Cloth, $1.50.

Cherry. By Booth Tarkington, author of "The Gentleman from Indiana."

A sparkling romance of old New York. Mr. Sudgeberry tells the story, and unconsciously depicts himself a hopeless prig. He believes he is in love with Sylvia Gray—her beauty, her wit, her cherry ribbons dazzle his youthful but already ponderous and egotistical brain. Finally the pouting Sylvia decides to take a momentous step, and Mr. Sudgeberry intrudes at once, with officious attempts to save his Sylvia from a direful fate, but he learns that there is more than one string to the bow of a pretty girl. Sprightly, clever and amusing comedy. Illustrated in color by A. I. Keller. Title-page and End Papers in colors. Decorated Chapter Heads and Tail Pieces. Gilt Top, Uncut Edges, $1.25.

The Heart of Hyacinth By Onoto Watanna, author of "A Japanese Nightingale," etc.

This is another romance of Japan by the author of "A Japanese Nightingale." It tells the love story of a daughter of American parents, born and reared in the land of flowers, and of a half-caste youth, whose father was an English nobleman. The fairy-like charm of Japan is felt in every page of the story It is incomparably dainty, and it is filled with the indefinable spirit of the East. The book is bound in a delicate lavendar cloth, with gold and colored cover decorations. There are full-page illustrations in colors and marginal drawings in tint by Japanese artists on every page. Uncut Edges, Gilt Top. In a Box, $2.00 net.

THE UNIT BOOKS

A NEW WAY OF DOING AN OLD THING

The Unit Books is a novel enterprise. It is to consist of reprints of classic works ancient and modern. The print will be clear, without display or ornament. The experiment will be watched with interest.

The Nation

An interesting experiment is designated The Unit Books, an unlimited collection of selected reprints from every department of the world's intellectual activity. An explanation of the title is the novel method under which it will be sold.

The Dial

The latest innovation in the publishing business, for English-speaking readers, consists in the adoption of a practice called the unit system, which implies the fixing of the price of a book by the number of pages it contains.

N. Y. Tribune

A new experiment in publishing has been undertaken by the publisher of The Unit Books, whose purpose it is to issue the cheapest series of books ever placed on the market in America.

N. Y. Evening Sun

The Unit Books means that books are to be sold by the page, according to cost of production. The system seems particularly applicable for series which must contain issues of greatly varying length. The promise that standard works are to be presented unabridged, and under careful editorial supervision, assures a certain dignity to this interesting experiment.

Phila. Public Ledger

There is now being launched a worthy enterprise under the title The Unit Books. This series of cheap reprints is to include old and standard works in history, literature, science, mechanics, politics and other books for students. The list of books announced for publication is long and attractive.

Chicago Record-Herald

See page 414 of issue of September 12 for full description.

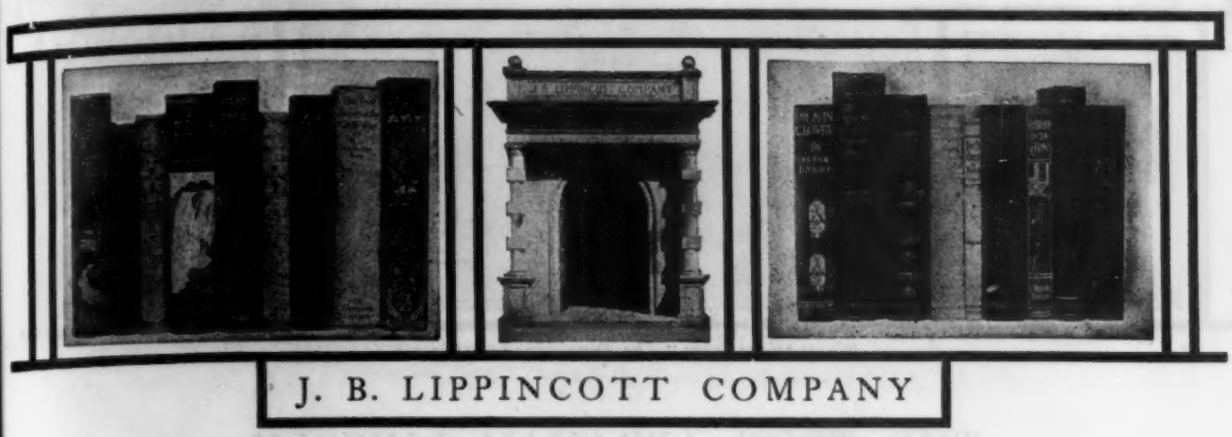
BOOKS FOR THE AUTUMN



J. B. LIPPINCOTT COMPANY

THE TRUE HISTORY OF THE CIVIL WAR

By Guy Carleton Lee, Ph.D.

A brief yet comprehensive history, true in the best sense, in that it gives an impartial and accurate account of the causes that led to the Civil War, and a narrative of that struggle and the consequences of Federal victory. It is a thoroughly readable volume, and especially notable for the vividness with which it brings out the great figures of '61 to '65. Professor Lee is a lecturer in Johns Hopkins University, and is besides widely known for his critical work. The book has over twenty illustrations from rare portraits and views.

Illustrated. Royal 8vo. $2.00, net; half levant, $5.00. Postage, 13 cents extra.

AMERICAN MYTHS AND LEGENDS

By Charles M. Skinner

Mr. Skinner will be remembered agreeably by his former volumes, "Myths and Legends of Our Own Land" and "Myths and Legends Beyond Our Borders." The present volume contains the result of careful study of a large number of legends, some familiar and some scarcely known at all, which relate to the United States. The new volumes have red letter title-page and photogravure illustrations.

Illustrated. 2 volumes. $2.50, net; half morocco, $5.00, net. Postage extra.

THE NOVELS OF CHARLES DICKENS

BIOGRAPHICAL EDITION

A handsome and dignified Library Edition, with biographical introductions, giving a history of each book and its place in Dickens's life. These introductions are brief, and each tells a story in itself. The edition, as a whole, affords a clear and interesting account of the literary career of Dickens. It includes Forster's "Life of Dickens," edited and revised by the famous English novelist and critic, George Gissing. It is notable especially for the illustrations from the originals by Cruikshank, Walker, Landseer, Leech, Luke Fildes, Seymour, and "Phiz." The volumes of this edition will also be sold separately.

Illustrated. 20 volumes. Cloth, gilt top, $25.00; green half morocco, London binding, $50.00, net.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT COMPANY'S

Illustrations from "The True Abraham Lincoln."

THE TRUE ABRAHAM LINCOLN

By William Eleroy Curtis

Author of "The True Thomas Jefferson."

The most recent addition to the "True Biographies" which have won such wide popularity and distinct success for their presentation of great Americans in an intimate and at the same time dignified manner. Mr. Curtis's "True Thomas Jefferson" of a year ago will be at once recalled. His picture of Lincoln is singularly interesting and suggestive.

"It is a book to make Americans feel proud and grateful . . . One that every young American should read."—Pittsburg Gazette.

"'The True Abraham Lincoln' is rich in Lincoln stories. Mr. Curtis has looked well to his sources and has brought together much valuable and entertaining matter that will find popular appreciation."—Philadelphia Ledger.

HISTORY OF THE MOORISH EMPIRE IN EUROPE

By S. P. Scott

Author of "Through Spain."

A scholarly and comprehensive review of one of the most interesting and influential periods in European history. Mr. Scott resided for years in Spain, and he has approached his subject with such deliberation and after such exhaustive study, that his discussion has the poise and coherence that are the attributes only of the most distinguished of historical writing. It is, in fact, a life work, and will surely be a "standard" in its field. The volumes are exhibitions of the best work in paper, printing, and binding.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT COMPANY'S

Illustrations from "Decameron" and Memoirs of Count Grammont."

RECOLLECTIONS AND IMPRESSIONS OF JAMES A. McNEILL WHISTLER

By Arthur Jerome Eddy

Mr. Eddy enjoyed for a number of years the friendship of the distinguished American painter, wit, and critic, and was a close observer of his character and habits. These impressions he has interwoven charmingly with his reflections upon Whistler as man and artist, and his book is one of the most interesting, as well as one of the most intimate pictures of Whistler which we possess. Mr. Eddy himself is already well known by his scholarly work, "Delight: the Soul of Art," and for his delightfully rambling narrative, "Two Thousand Miles on an Automobile."

MEMOIRS OF COUNT GRAMMONT

Edited by Gordon Goodwin

These memoirs by Count Anthony Hamilton, of which the present translation is that edited by Sir Walter Scott in 1811, occupy a unique position in literature. "As an agreeable book, the 'Memoirs of Grammont' perhaps deserve more than any other which was ever written; it is pleasantry throughout, and pleasantry of the best sort, unforced, graceful, and engaging," said Sir Walter Scott.

The edition, in two volumes, is printed on excellent paper with fair margins, and contains portraits finely reproduced in photogravure. The binding of these books is a feature.

Illustrated. 2 volumes. 12mo. Cloth, gilt top, paper label, $4.00, net; half morocco, London binding, $6.50, net; a large paper edition, half morocco, $7.50, net.

DECAMERON

By Giovanni Boccaccio

A new, faithful, and exceedingly satisfactory translation of this classic collection of tales, presented in two handsome volumes, illuminated with eleven beautiful illustrations in photogravure done by Louis Chalon. The books make the most satisfactory binding of the Decameron, at a reasonable price, yet offered.

Illustrated. 2 volumes. Buckram, gilt top, $7.50, net; three-quarters levant morocco, $17.50, net; full-grained morocco, $25.00, net.

AUTUMN ANNOUNCEMENT

THE EDUCATIONAL THEORY OF IMMANUEL KANT

By Edward Franklin Buchner

This is a formulation of the conceptions of the great philosopher, as exhibited in his lecture-notes on Pedagogy, and in selections from other of his most thoughtful writings. The editor is a Professor in the University of Alabama.

12mo. Cloth, $1.25, net.

DOCTOR WILLIAM PEPPER (A BIOGRAPHY)

By Francis Newton Thorpe

The subject of this volume, one of the most widely-known physicians of the United States, as an educator, and the head of the University of Pennsylvania, won scarcely less distinction. Professor Thorpe, his biographer, is well known as writer and educator.

Illustrated. 8vo. Cloth.

THE LIFE OF HORACE BINNEY

By Charles C. Binney

A biographical study of the life and achievements of one of the most distinguished Philadelphians, as well as one of the most widely known men of his day. Few records of the life of a single member of any American family contain so many charming and informing chapters. The writer has had the advantage of all family records.

Illustrated. 8vo. Cloth, gilt top, rough edges.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT COMPANY'S

Illustrations from "Animal Life," "Shakespeare's Garden," and "Birds in Their Relations to Man."

SHAKESPEARE'S GARDEN

By J. Harvey Bloom, M.A.

This little book, in the form of a poetical calendar, treats in due order, month by month, of the trees, shrubs, and flowers which come to perfection at that particular time. It is a nature book which has beside the charm and revelation which attach to the writings of the great master of English literature. The volume is furnished with an appendix, and is illustrated with several most interesting reproductions from photographs. There is also a table of quotations from the plays and poems.

Illustrated. 12mo. Cloth, $1.00, net; limp leather, $1.25, net.

BIRDS IN THEIR RELATIONS TO MAN

By Clarence M. Weed and Ned Dearborn

A comprehensive and authoritative consideration of the habits and economic classification of those birds which, especially by reason of their diet, are of immediate usefulness to the agriculturist and to a lesser degree of importance to man in general.

"A most scholarly and instructive book. Excellent plates from original photographs."—Boston Literary World.

FALL ANNOUNCEMENT OF NEW - - PUBLICATIONS AND NEW EDITIONS

History and romance of the conquest of the globe.

THE STORY OF EXPLORATION.

A new series of the highest value and interest.

Edited by Dr. Scott Keltie.

Secretary of the Royal Geographical Society.

The idea which underlies this series is that of the romance of exploration, with strict adherence to accuracy. A dry record alone is always avoided; the books are not only of the highest historical and scientific value, but they are above everything readable.

There have been so many adventurous and heroic men engaged in opening up the world's unknown regions that it has not been difficult to get material full of the most absorbing interest. With such subjects as Nansen, Speke, Stanley, Jacques Cartier, La Salle, Cook, and other great explorers, it has been possible to write a series as fascinating as the works of Parkman.

The personal interest is a feature of the series; for example, the first volume is "The Nile Quest." The most important discoveries in the Nile region were by Speke, and his work is the centre around which the volume is constructed. The book is not, however, in any respect a biography of Speke, but all the chief episodes connected with the tracing of the Nile by others are also given.

All the volumes of this series are prepared especially for it, and all the writers chosen are the highest authorities on the special topics treated, including Nansen, Sir Harry Johnston, and others.

The volumes are adequately illustrated, and provided with maps. There are about thirty-six illustrations in each volume, and they are all thoroughly appropriate to the text. They include portraits of the explorers figuring in the volumes, photographs or sketches of the familiar features of the region covered and reproductions of suitable contemporary engravings. The maps are made by Bartholomew, and are the most accurate possible. There is in each volume at least one good colored map of large size, showing clearly the geographical results attained.

Each volume, post 8vo, cloth, net, $1.35. Postpaid, ... $1.50

The volumes at present issued, or in press, are:

CORRESPONDENCE OF KAISER WILLIAM I. AND BISMARCK.

Edited by Horst Kohl.

Prince Bismarck himself expressed a desire that his correspondence with the Emperor William I. should be published, as he thought these letters show better than can be done in any other way the unique relationship that existed between him and his august master.

Bismarck left instructions also that the most characteristic of the Emperor William's letters should be reproduced in facsimile, and the American edition of the correspondence contains one of these and one showing the great chancellor's own striking handwriting.

These letters extend from 1852, when Wilhelm I. was still a prince, to 1887. They cover a wide variety of subjects, but, of course, the greater portion of them has to do with the political questions of the day. With portraits.

History as told by our ancestors' surroundings.

THE OLD FURNITURE BOOK.

By N. HUDSON MOORE.

Beginning with the little settlement on the James River, every step of the rugged way trodden by the first colonists is of importance to their descendants. How our forefathers lived, what they had, with what few comforts they managed to get along seem nearly a miracle to us. Many of their ways and means are written in their furniture, some of which survives, even some of the first scanty goods which came in the Mayflower. What came from England, and when, what the sturdy Dutch brought with them or sent for, what our own cabinet-makers wrought (and we had them as early as 1622) constitute a subject we often should like to study. "The Old Furniture Book" aims to fill such a want.

The early English makers and their work, even as early as the days of Good Queen Bess, are discussed in this valuable book, and are brought down in systematic order to the first quarter of the nineteenth century.

There are also chapters on clocks—grandfathers and mantel sizes—of both English and American makes, and chapters on early musical instruments, spinets, harpsichords and pianos. In addition, there is a running history of the dress, manners, and amusements of the owners of this old furniture.

THE OLD CHINA BOOK.

By N. HUDSON MOORE.

The collection of old china has always been a hobby of the few, from the days when Queen Mary filled her drawing-rooms with "mandarins and scaramouches" and other grotesques from the Orient. In later days, other than Chinese wares claim the attention of the collector, and no country has made more beautiful wares in pottery and porcelain than England.

"The Old China Book" describes these choice porcelains accurately, gives the marks in carefully worded descriptions, shows by means of many illustrations the variations—sometimes very slight—in many porcelains and aims to assist the would-be collector in choosing his specimens.

The increasing interest manifested in the Staffordshire wares is ministered to in the fullest manner. Lists of the English and American views are given in connection with each maker; the choicest pieces are shown in fine specimens taken from the best collections in the country; and details of interest aside from the manufacture of the pottery render the book entertaining to those not necessarily collectors.

Science made attractive for the general reader.

THE TWENTIETH CENTURY ATLAS OF POPULAR ASTRONOMY.

By THOMAS HEATH, B.A.

First Assistant Astronomer, Royal Observatory, Edinburgh.

The text of this work is written in a popular way, so that those taking up the subject for the first time will have no difficulty in understanding it. There is no doubt that the general interest in astronomical study has enormously increased of late years.

The progress of astronomy during the century recently closed has been rapid. The discovery of the spectroscope and the application of photography to astronomical research has opened up a new and interesting branch of the science, while the older and more strictly mathematical department has been no less vigorously pushed forward.

THE LIBRARY OF STANDARD BIOGRAPHIES.

1. Memoirs of Napoleon. By L. A. F. Bourrienne.
2. Life and Times of Oliver Goldsmith. By John Forster.
3. Life of John Wesley. By R. Southey.

This series of biographies, although each is in compact form, should prove to be standard, as the volumes are selected and edited with the greatest care. The first in the series presents the whole of Bourrienne's ten volumes in a condensed form. Bourrienne was at school with Napoleon, and held many positions under him during the Consulate and the Empire. He was in intimate connection with the Emperor, and no one was better qualified to write his life.

In addition to the advantage of having the work brought into one volume in clear type, the book is provided with an appendix, notes, etc., which contain any additional information of vital importance about Napoleon that has come to light in the last fifty years. There are also an index and a chronological list of events in the life of Napoleon.

Forster's "Life and Times of Goldsmith" is the early form of the book which was praised so highly by Dickens and Carlyle, who thought the author spoiled the work when he extended it into what was called "The Life and Letters of Oliver Goldsmith."

ORDERED TO CHINA.

By WILBUR J. CHAMBERLIN.

Mr. Chamberlin was sent to China as a correspondent of the New York Sun at the time of the Boxer troubles there, and went to Pekin with the allied armies. His letters are all addressed to his wife, and are described by a critic as "human documents sure to be highly interesting to the general reader as well as to the more discriminating part of the public that can appreciate a revelation, amid circumstances of remarkable and unique interest, of a character far out of the common."

There is about them a convincing and refreshing frankness and truth. The vein of humor running through them is remarkable, and there are some delightful chapters on amusing subjects that are only half praised by calling them better than the best stories in "David Harum."

There is also a pathetic side to the publication; as Mr. Chamberlin contracted a fatal disease while on duty and died on his way back from China.

OUR FRIEND THE HORSE.

A complete practical guide to all that is known about every breed of horse in the world.

By FRANK TOWNEND BARTON. Author of "Unsound Horses," etc.

The purpose of the author has been to give his facts in a clear, brief and systematic style, so that the Manual may be found a useful guide to breeders, owners, and others interested in matters pertaining to the horse.

It is a well-known fact that the care given to a horse, whatever be its particular service to man, is a most important factor in determining its subsequent utility, and it is with this aim that the writer has been induced to give the more important facts relating to foods, feeding, and stable management in general. All important diseases are described and indexed for easy reference.

LETTERS OF AN ACTRESS.

The circumstances that prevent the admission of the authorship of these "Letters" are not peculiar to this book, but are common to its class. At the request of the author, however, one of her friends states formally: (1), That she is an actress and has been on the stage for years. (2), That the people mentioned in the "Letters" do exist under other names. (3), That the events narrated did take place.

TRAVELS IN SPACE.
A History of Aerial Navigation.

By E. SETON VALENTINE and F. L. TOMLINSON.

With an introduction by Sir Hiram Maxim, F.A.S.

The story of the achievements and inventions in this fascinating department of modern science is told with all its humor, daring, and tragedy, and is as interesting as a romantic novel.

There have been numerous treatises on parts of the subject, but never until now has there been a single one to present to the ordinary reader, as well as to him technically interested in the matter, an adequate narration of everything that has been done in the field of aerial locomotion.

The illustrations are profuse and cover numerous devices, from those of Leonardo da Vinci to those of Santos-Dumont.

Author of "More Cargoes," "The Skipper's Wooing," etc.

This delightful collection of sea stories has maintained its popularity and sells steadily and well. Mr. Jacobs' humor has won him many admirers who will be pleased to know that a new edition is issued. It is fully and humorously illustrated by E. W. Kemble, in his inimitable manner.

The stories are of a character that lend themselves readily to Mr. Kemble's talent. There are 8 full-page plates, done in color, and numerous black-and-white illustrations after pen-and-ink sketches. Some of these are full-page, and some are set in the text.

THE A. B.-Z. OF OUR OWN NUTRITION.

By HORACE FLETCHER.

Author of "Menticulture," "Happiness," "That Last Waif," "Glutton or Epicure," etc., etc.

AND

DR. ERNST VAN SOMEREN, M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P., of Venice, Italy.

DR. HUBERT HIGGINS, M A., M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P., of Cambridge, England.

This is a startling revelation of a possible scientific understanding of human alimentation which has been worked out during five years of experiment in both the United States and in Europe under the advice and with the assistance of some of the leading physiologists of both continents.

The treatise's publication is regarded as timely since the problems of nutrition are attracting great attention at the present time, Professor Russell H. Chittenden of the Sheffield Scientific School of Yale University being engaged in the study of the minimum proteid requirements of the human body, with the co-operation of the Medical Department of the United States Army, under advice of Surgeon-General Robert Maitland O'Reilly. The A. B.-Z. will also be a report of what has been done already towards international co-operation in this important human interest.

The movement is endorsed and supported by seven of the most eminent physiologists of European countries, and three from the United States, whose names are class-words in every medical school in the country.

RIPS AND RAPS.

By L. DE V. MATTHEWMAN.

Author of "Crankisms."

This is a book which it is difficult to classify, and just as difficult to forget. It is sure to be largely quoted. Snap shots of human nature from the standpoint of an independent observer. Many a barbed truth pointed with a laugh. Satire which is at times biting, but never unkindly. Smiles at human frailties, but no sneers. Healthy bitterness, but no sourness. Sermons which are usually leveled at the other fellow, and are therefore acceptable.

The illustrations, which form a striking and attractive feature of the book, are by Thomas Fleming. In them one sees the result of intelligent collaboration between the author and the artist. Every one enforces the point of the epigram. The skill of the artist has brought out in clearer relief the meaning of the author. There is a vein of kindly humor and keen wit running through the pictures.

OVER THE BORDER.

A New Novel by ROBERT BARR.

Author of "In the Midst of Alarms," "A Woman Intervenes," etc.

It is nearly two years since this Prince of Story Tellers has appealed to the public with a novel, and his many admirers will welcome a new romance from his pen.

"Over the Border" is the general style of "Tekia," which has sold nearly thirty-four thousand copies, and is still active.

It is not an "historical novel," so-called, but is a dashing story of adventure in the time of Cromwell, full of love, fighting, intrigue, told in Mr. Barr's breezy and witty way.

It gives a good picture of the stern old Protector in his more kindly mood, the closing scene showing him bestowing the hand of the heroine on the hero and giving her away himself.

THE O'RUDDY.

By STEPHEN CRANE and ROBERT BARR.

A rattling Irish romance, full of humor, dash and incident.

Just before his death Stephen Crane was at work on the MS. of this novel, of which he had completed about two-thirds. When his fatal illness began he started for the Continent. Robert Barr, his friend, went with him as far as the Channel and bade him good-bye there. Before they separated they had a long detailed talk over the novel and its completion. Crane thought that he would never get well and expressed the strongest desire that Barr should finish "The O'Ruddy" if he himself should not live to do so.

After Crane's death Barr was so occupied with writing "Over the Border" and editing THE IDLER, of which he had become the proprietor, that he was not able to do anything with the story, but has now yielded to the urgent requests of his publishers, who are also Crane's publishers, and has carried his old friend's novel to a triumphant conclusion.

DENIS DENT.

A Romance.

By ERNEST W. HORNUNG.

Author of "The Amateur Cracksman," etc., etc.

Mr. Hornung has been at work for years on this masterpiece of ingenious plot and thrilling incident. It is a story of unflagging interest and of many scenes refreshingly new in fiction.

Love, treachery and heroism play their parts in this romance of the sea, the Ballarat gold fields, the great battle of Inkerman (in which the hero and his rival fight a few feet apart, as private and officer respectively) and of "home" with final reward and happiness.

WHEN I WAS CZAR.

By ARTHUR W. MARCHMONT.

Author of "In the Name of a Woman," "A Dash for a Throne," etc.

When one of the Czars of Russia was boar hunting in Germany on one occasion he was instrumental in saving the life of one of the distinguished guests taking part in the hunt, and upon the rescued man rising to thank the rescuer, both discovered to their intense surprise that the resemblance between them was as close as that which is commonly to be found between twins. They were not even of the same nationality, however; and the incident proved to be a nine days' wonder in the Court circles.

This incident is at the foundation of Mr. Marchmont's new story of adventure, "When I Was Czar." The strange resemblance which the hero of the story, an American, bears to the Ruler of all the Russias, enables him at the instigation of a great and powerful Minister to act the part of the Czar in a matter of intense political importance, and he is plunged at once into a veritable sea of intrigues, dangers and conspiracy, complicated by a love affair, and calling for the exercise of all his cool American daring, fertility of resource, and tireless energy.

FELIX.

By ROBERT HICHENS.

Author of "The Green Carnation," "Flames," etc.

Felix is a study of youth on the threshold of manhood, ignorant and inquisitive, egotistical, self-opinionated and timid by times. The book deals minutely with a certain drug vice which is at the present moment very prevalent in the modern world, but it depends for its main interest upon the relations existing between a simply sincere and transparently good mother and a subtle, complicated and naturally reserved son.

It may be stated that all the elaborate detail concerning the vice already mentioned is absolutely accurate and is supported by medical testimony. Felix marks the ripening of Mr. Hichens' power as a writer.

THE SACRIFICE OF THE SHANNON

By W. ALBERT HICKMAN.

This is a novel having to do with the ice-crushers of Northumberland Strait and the region near Prince Edward Island.

The heroine is one of those intrepid yachtswomen whose motto is "win or drive her under," and her daring handling of a 21-footer in a race sailed in a gale is one of the most remarkable episodes in this tale of a remarkable girl of Nova Scotia. A horsewoman of courage and skill, a ski runner able to go at the rate of forty miles an hour and to make a leap of fifty feet, a canoeist who laughs as she creeps upon a half decayed log after an overturn in the rapids, Gertrude MacMichael is certainly a novelty in fiction.

CHILDREN OF THE ARCTIC.

By THE SNOW BABY AND HER MOTHER.

Five years ago the story of "The Snow Baby" came to an end. Now a great big girl of nine years, the Snow Baby is able herself to tell the story of her further Arctic experiences and her acquaintance with the little fur-clad children of the ice.

Again she has seen the icebergs and the great ice-fields, the glaciers, the polar bears, the walrus, the deer, the musk-oxen and the birds; but this time she has seen them with eyes that could understand a little.

What her life experiences seemed like to her will be told largely IN HER OWN WAY, with an occasional word of help or explanation from her mother.

The illustrations are from photographs taken by Commander and Mrs. Peary and are of the greatest variety, but give especial attention to the children.

MORE GOOPS, AND HOW NOT TO BE THEM.

By GELETT BURGESS.

The Goops are now so well known amongst children and grown-ups as to make Mr. Burgess's first Manual of Manners a nursery classic, an American Struwelpeter brought down to date, and every wise child knows of Goops and their bad manners and has learned the lessons they taught.

"More Goops" consists of 44 rules of deportment for children, written in catchy rhymes easily remembered, each teaching some simple rule of good manners in the home, on the street, at play, at school and elsewhere.

The chief attractiveness of the book, however, lies in the whimsical pictures drawn by the author, and the fantastic personification of childish faults in a race of creatures entirely his own, but now well-known by children. The mingling of such amusing fun with the lessons every child has to learn makes the book a great help to the mother in bringing up her children. She has but to point to his grotesque drawings and ask:

"Are you a Goop?"

IN OLD EGYPT.
A Story About the Bible but not in the Bible.

By THE REVD. DR. H. PEREIRA MENDES.

Dr. Mendes is well known throughout the United States as an accomplished student of Biblical literature, and his story is based on historic facts.

The hero of the book is AMRAM, FATHER OF MOSES. His family and tribe are brought into the story. Many of the characters in this story are historical. All of the Hebrew slaves and most of the Egyptians mentioned, in fact, were real personages.

The work is, however, a good story, first of all, and is not only of value but of absorbing interest for young people. With illustrations by Mabel L. Humphrey.

BETTY AND BOB.

By ANNE HELENA WOODRUFF.

The principal interest of this story centres in its portrayal of country life. A brother and sister taken from an orphan asylum are turned loose on a farm in the Niagara Peninsula.

There are many exciting incidents in the book, of the kind to interest boys and girls; but it has been the aim of the author to exclude everything of an unnatural or sensational character, trusting to the sweet, pure, and true influences of nature to attract and hold the youthful attention.

FOXY GRANDPA'S MOTHER GOOSE.

By BUNNY.

The celebrated caricaturist and author of all the "Foxy Grandpa" books.

This should be one of the most popular children's books of the year. It unites one of the most celebrated of ancient characters, Mother Goose, with one of the most celebrated of modern characters, Foxy Grandpa, and they go hand-in-hand through a series of amusing adventures throughout the book. Foxy Grandpa always acts as the philanthropic good friend in the case of the unfortunates like Mother Hubbard, Miss Muffet, etc.

The pictures throughout the book are bright and will appeal at once to children, while the verses are equally attractive.

FALL ANNOUNCEMENTS

New Edition of the

LETTERS OF HORACE WALPOLE

Edited by Mrs. PAGET TOYNBEE

THE DELEGATES OF THE CLARENDON PRESS have arranged with MRS. PAGET TOYNBEE for the publication of The Letters of Horace Walpole, in as complete a form as possible. The work is now in the press, and will be issued in sixteen volumes. The first portion (vols. i.-iv.) will be published in November, 1903, vols. v.-x. will be ready in November, 1904, and the remainder (vols. xi-xvi.) in November, 1905.

It is confidently expected that this new edition, the first for nearly fifty years, of the greatest English letter-writer of the eighteenth (or perhaps of any) century, will be practically final, no pains having been spared in tracing letters in the hands of private owners, and in public collections, in this country, in England, and on the Continent.

Mrs. Toynbee has been so fortunate as to obtain the use of over 400 letters not included in the latest edition of the Collected Letters; more than a hundred of these have never before been printed.

The work will be issued in three editions, as follows:

I. 16 volumes, demy, 8vo, on hand-made paper, the number of copies limited to 260, at the subscription price of $125.00 net in cloth boards; $175.00 net in full morocco.

II. 8 double volumes, crown 8vo, on Oxford India paper, at the subscription price of $35.00 net.

III. 16 volumes, crown 8vo, on ordinary paper, at the subscription price of $27.00 net.

NOTE—No orders will be accepted at the above prices after the publication of the first four volumes in November, 1903, when the prices will be materially increased.

DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & COMPANY

COUNTRY LIFE IN AMERICA

PUBLISHERS

THE WORLD'S WORK

34 UNION SQUARE, NEW YORK

A Busy October

ENTRANCE TO PASSENGER ELEVATOR
NEW BUILDING

In a good many respects we count this month the most important this firm has ever had.

IN BOOKS

On October first will be published Mr. Kipling's new volume of verse, "The Five Nations," a book of supreme interest in many ways.

Mr. Ernest Thompson Seton's new and best volume, "Two Little Savages," will follow on the fifteenth. It is a story of woodcraft for boys of all ages (more than 500 pages, with 300 pictures by the author) on which Mr. Seton has been at work for many years—a book to last and to be made a companion of.

Another October publication, the "Memoirs of M. de Blowitz," for so many years Paris correspondent of the London Times, is a unique autobiography, written with the grace and charm which has made the author the leader among the men of his craft.

Other important books to come during the next thirty days are decribed on the following pages.

IN MAGAZINES

The October issue of Country Life in America will be a country home builder's manual, and will tell, in text and over a hundred and sixty illustrations, more things about the practical and the beautiful in relation to house-building, than have ever been brought together before.

The World's Work is completing plans to be announced next month on many vitally interesting subjects. The editor assures its readers that the magazine for 1904 will be well out of any magazine rut —even its own, if it has one.

Doubleday, Page & Company's Fall Announcement

THE NEW BUILDING

On August first the new home of Doubleday, Page & Company was a hole in the ground. On September first the foundations were practically completed. During October, the contract says, the front, of white marble and Harvard brick, will be finished. The little cut at the head of these observations shows the entrance to the passenger elevator, and is a suggestion of the artistic finish which the architects, Messrs. Kirby, Petit, & Green, have put into the design.

We look forward to January first, when the separate departments of Doubleday, Page & Company's business, which have been located in a half-dozen places, will be brought together under our own roof. Perhaps our friends who have detected in us mistakes will bear with us until the new building is in running order; then there will be an end to apologies. It is a building planned from cellar to roof to take care of our own business exclusively.

Fall Books

THE FIVE NATIONS By Rudyard Kipling

The first collection of Mr. Kipling's poems since 1896. It is safe to say that, since the "Recessional," no living poet has had such a world-wide audience; each new utterance has become a matter of international news, cabled from one continent to another, and read by a hundred million people the next morning. This volume contains all the most famous of these poems—besides about twenty-five new and unpublished pieces. It is safe to say that its publication is the literary event of 1903. Net, $1.40.

TWO LITTLE SAVAGES By Ernest Thompson Seton

This is Mr. Seton's latest and best book for boys, telling them, in story form, just how to camp out, how to build dams, how to know the animals and birds, how to make and shoot bows and arrows—and all the other facts of "woodcraft" which the author has learned in his lifetime of outdoor work and study. It is a fascinating and permanent work. The details of the book have been designed by Mrs. Seton, and it is altogether original and pleasing. (Over 300 illustrations by the author.) Net, $1.75.

MEMOIRS OF M. de BLOWITZ

M. de Blowitz was the most famous of newspaper correspondents, and these absorbing memoirs not only deal intimately with the greatest European monarchs, statesmen, and events, but are written with a charming literary style that makes delightful reading. Illustrated; net, $3.00.

THE MOTH BOOK By Dr. W. J. Holland

An ideal popular manual and the only adequate book on this attractive subject. The moths are more beautiful and interesting than the butterflies, and Doctor Holland's fine work not only enables a beginner to identify the American species, but covers their economic importance, silk culture, and the literary side of the subject; 48 color plates and 300 text cuts, illustrating 1,500 species. Net, $4.00.

AMERICAN MASTERS OF SCULPTURE By Charles H. Caffin

Mr. Caffin's admirable work on our foremost painters at once took its place as the standard popular account of the American development of this art, and this companion volume is quite as clear, sane and interesting. It deals particularly with the work of Saint-Gaudens, MacMonnies, Ward, Bartlett, French, Borglum, Adams and Barnard, but also sums up the whole progress of sculpture in this country, and its outlook. 32 illustrations; net, $3.00.

150 illustrations; net, $1.60.

MEMOIRS OF MADAME LEBRUN

A translation by Lionel Strachey (uniform with the memoirs of Countess Potocka and the "Contemporary") of the famous artist's autobiography, with reproductions of her own paintings. It is the naïve story of a painter and courtier who numbered among her models princes and potentates of all lands, and who knew intimately such diverse rulers as the First Gentleman of Europe and Russia's greatest Empress.

32 illustrations; net, $2.75.

THE MARK — By Aquila Kempster

This is the sort of novel that makes even the jaded manuscript reader sit up half the night to finish it. It is full of the glamor and fascination of the East. Upon a background of native life in India and the marvels of Hindu magic, drawn with striking intimacy, the author has pictured a love story of the greatest charm, dealing with the reincarnation of a native prince and the beautiful Soondai whom he had loved before. As an adventurous romance dealing convincingly with matters which Western minds pronounce "impossibilities," it is a most notable production.

Illustrated in color by Foley; $1.50.

"THE TEMPEST" — Volume II in "The Elizabethan Shakspere"

The first volume of this work ("Macbeth") met with instant recognition from scholars and bookmen everywhere. Doctor Liddell, the editor, has made from the original Elizabethan text the only Shakespeare which enables a modern reader to understand what the great poet dramatist really meant. Prices on application.

THE WHIP HAND — By Samuel Merwin

A vivid and dramatic novel of business life in Michigan. A great lumber fight between the "trust" and an independent lumberman makes a background for an absorbing romance of young love and young energy. Illustrated; $1.50.

PETRONILLA HEROVEN — By Una L. Silberrad

Miss Silberrad has steadily increased her public with each new book. She is a writer of real genius, and this novel of rural England has the same qualities that made "The Success of Mark Wyngate" talked about, with a far pleasanter and more cheerful subject. $1.50.

DRIVING — By Francis M. Ware

Mr. Ware is one of our foremost authorities, and his former books have met with marked success. In this handsome and elaborate volume he has made the first comprehensive work on driving in America. The binding of the volume is really an artistic triumph, and the scope may be judged from the contents:

Introductory
Early American Coaching
American Vehicles
Stage Coaching in the West
Road Coaching
Hints to Beginners
Driving One Horse
Driving a Pair
Tandem Driving
Four-in-Hands
Show Ring Driving
Driving for Ladies
Holding Reins and Whip
Bits and Bitting
The Heavy Harness Horse
Equipment and Maintenance of a Private Stable
Arrangement of Stables
Carriages and Their Care
Servants and Liveries
Harness and Its Care
Feeding, Grooming, Etc.
Shoeing and the Feet
Breeding the Carriage Horse
Type for Purpose
Showing Horses
Road Driving in Earlier Times
Road Driving and Appointment
Amateur Race Driving
Conditioning and Balancing
Sleighing and Sleigh Horses

About 100 illustrations; net, $10.00.

Doubleday, Page & Company's Fall Announcement

NEWEST ENGLAND By Henry Demarest Lloyd

A new and cheaper edition of Mr. Lloyd's work on the development of popular government in Australia and New Zealand. An important contribution to the study of democracy, to which the author has added in order to bring it down to date.

Net, $1.00.

THE WEB By Frederick Trevor Hill

A powerful novel of modern life, by the author of "The Minority" and "The Case with Exceptions." The love story of strong and resolute Dave Maddox stands out against a tangled background of legal trickery and the law's delays. Illustrated; $1.50.

STORIES OF INVENTORS By Russell Doubleday

A volume on the adventurous side of invention, the stories being told through the experiences of the inventor.

SOME OF THE CHAPTERS

Marconi and Wireless Telegraphy
Dumont and Aerial Navigation
Parsons and High-speed Turbine Boats
The Engineer and the Modern Locomotive
Holland and Submarine Navigation
Bridge Engineers and Their Work
The Life-savers and Their Apparatus
How Automobiles Work

Illustrated; net, $1.25.

THE HARRIMAN ALASKAN EXPEDITION

We have in preparation twelve great volumes embodying the scientific results of Mr. E. H. Harriman's expedition to Alaska, which dozens of eminent specialists have been working over for three years. The additions to existing knowledge of the country are truly marvelous, and the whole work will be a monumental record as well as a magnificent example of fine bookmaking. Five volumes, on Glaciers, Geology, and Botany, will probably be ready this fall.

Elaborately illustrated; price per vol., net, $7.50.

COLOR KEY TO NORTH AMERICAN BIRDS By Frank M. Chapman

A unique book by Mr. Frank M. Chapman, with 800 color illustrations by C. A. Reed, enabling anybody to identify with ease any bird he may see in America.

Net, $2.50.

Ready January 15, 1904

THE DELIVERANCE By Ellen Glasgow

A strong and absorbingly interesting novel of the Virginia tobacco country, by the author of "The Battleground," "The Voice of the People," etc. Miss Glasgow's art grows more mature with each of her books, and this attractive love story has all the grasp of character, the humorous appreciation of the negro temperament, and the dramatic action which her other very successful novels would lead one to expect.

Illustrated in color by Schoonover; $1.50.

September Publications

A DEAL IN WHEAT By Frank Norris

A collection of striking stories of the New and Old West by the author of "The Pit." As Mr. Alden says: "He made the epic poetical again and imbued it with the strong fiery spirit of the California soil and air." Illustrated; $1.50.

THE RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE NOVELIST By Frank Norris

And other Literary Essays, with portrait. Net, $1.25.

COMPLETE MEMORIAL EDITION OF MR. NORRIS'S WORKS

Doubleday, Page & Company's Fall Announcement

QUATRAINS OF ABU'L-ALA

A volume of unusual literary interest by a rediscovered forerunner of Omar Khayyám. Mr. Ameen F. Rihani has translated the quatrians, which are poetry of a very high order. With frontispiece; net, $1.25.

TOILERS OF THE HOME By Lillian Pettengill

The actual record of the experiences of a college graduate as a domestic servant. Full of humorous realism and of suggestion as to the "servant problem." Net, $1.50.

IN OLD ALABAMA By Anne Hobson

A most amusing narrative by "Miss Mouse, the Little Black Merchant," of happenings in a small Southern town. 8 photographic illustrations; $1.50.

HOW TO STUDY SHAKESPEARE By Wm. H. Fleming

A third series of Mr. Fleming's ingenious and very successful Shakespeare manual, covering "Antony and Cleopatra," "Much Ado About Nothing," "King John," "Love's Labor's Lost," "Richard II." and "A Winter's Tale."

Net, $1.00. SERIES I and SERIES II, each, uniform with above, net, $1.00.

TO CALIFORNIA AND BACK By C. A. Higgins and Charles Keeler

A book of practical information telling what people want to know about the California trip, and showing how to get the greatest pleasure, prices, side trips, etc. 250 illustrations; net, $1.50.

THE POULTRY BOOK Parts I. to IV. ready

BY HARRISON WEIR AND MANY AMERICAN SPECIALISTS.

The first adequate and exhaustive manual on the subject. It covers every branch of poultry raising, from incubation or hatching to marketing, with special treatment of nearly a hundred distinct varieties of chickens, besides ducks, geese, swans, turkeys, peacocks, guinea-fowls, pigeons and fancy game-fowl; and in addition to this wealth of practical instruction, the literature and lore of the subject is given at surprising length: proverbs, customs, Easter eggs, omens and superstitions, anecotes, medicinal properties and the like. To be completed in 18 parts, bound in stiff decorated paper. 300 illustrations, 36 in color; price, prepaid, 60 c. per part.

Books Which Sold in August

THE ONE WOMAN By Thomas Dixon, Jr.

This powerful novel by the author of "The Leopard's Spots" has had even greater success than that much-discussed story of the Southern white man's attitude toward the negro problem. The following letters from well-known leaders of thought show the interest "The One Woman" has aroused:

REV. FRANCIS E. CLARK, Pres. U. S. Chr. Endeavor. — "It is of thrilling interest. . . . Above all it teaches a lesson the world needs to learn."

REV. JNO. T. MacINTOSH, Presb. Evan. Society. — "As a piece of literature it is a marked advance on the former book."

REV. A. J. ROWLAND, Am. Bap. Pub. Society. — "It is a scathing treatment of the evils affecting our modern society. I congratulate the author."

PRES. E. BENJ. ANDREWS, — "'The One Woman' is a powerful piece of fiction. Its wit is nearly perfect."

REV. PHILIP S. MOXOM, First Congregational Church, Springfield, Mass. — "Artistically it is better than 'The Leopard's Spots.' It has rapid movement, unusual dramatic force, great vividness, and strong interest throughout."

GEN. HORATIO C. KING, of Brooklyn. — "I read it through at one sitting and skipped not a line. It is the strongest novel I have read in years and carries a weighty moral."

REV. E. J. GLEESON, St. Ignatius College. — "It will reach many who are beyond the influence of the pulpit, rostrum or scientific work. I wish it all success."

Books Which Sold in August.—Continued

HON. CHAS. A. SCHIEREN, of Brooklyn. "A most fascinating story. It will make a deep impression and should be read by every student of Sociology."

PRES. ALMON GUNNISON, St. Lawrence University. "The characters are strong, and the whole tone and spirit is delightfully sane and wholesome."

REV. JAMES M. BRUCE, of New York. "I am glad I didn't go down to Elmington Manor and lynch the author for writing 'The Leopard's Spots,' as I felt mildly inclined to do; for he would not have given us 'The One Woman,' which the world could ill have spared. . . . It is a noble and beautiful book, unerringly true to the best things and tremendously strong."

Illustrated by Clinedinst; $1.50.

MONSIGNY By Justus Miles Forman

This very attractive and dramatic novel by the author of "Journeys End" is full of that charm of birth and breeding which Mr. Forman depicts so well. It deals with the beautiful Isabeau de Monsigny, descendant of a famous noble French family and granddaughter of an English earl, and the complications following a false accusation of the man she loves. Illustrated by Anderson; $1.50.

A FEW REMARKS By Simeon Ford

"The best book of American humor in years," says a well-known author and editor. It is certainly very funny, with a dry, humorous extravagance that makes one think of Mark Twain's earlier work. Net, $1.00.

THE PIT By Frank Norris

Mr. Norris's fine novel of love and speculation has continued since its publication in January to win both the critics and the public. The former pronounce it one of the most truly American novels yet written, while the popular appreciation has caused it to figure largely among the "best selling books." $1.50.

THE STORY OF MY LIFE By Helen Keller

In some ways the most remarkable autobiography ever written, being the life-story of the one well-educated blind and deaf person. Thomas Wentworth Higginson numbers this among the "ten most American books"—along with Emerson's "Essays," "The Scarlet Letter," "Uncle Tom's Cabin," etc. Illustrated; net, $1.50.

UP FROM SLAVERY By Booker T. Washington

This "new and better 'Uncle Tom's Cabin,'" as it has been aptly called, increases its public and influence with each year. It is a book which every American should read. 30th thousand, frontispiece; net, $1.50.

THE WOMAN WHO TOILS By Mrs. John and Marie Van Vorst

This remarkable book, which contains Mr. Roosevelt's famous "race suicide" letter, continues to excite interest everywhere. The London critics are enthusiastic:

PALL MALL GAZETTE: "Instinct with fascination. Vivid and well balanced."

LONDON DAILY NEWS: "No one whose imagination is not dead can read it unmoved."

THE READER: "The pictures of the South are presented with Tolstoian effect."

LONDON DAILY CHRONICLE: "We have read it with unflagging interest. It abounds with swift sympathy and human interest."

Illustrated; net, $1.50.

JUST SO STORIES By Rudyard Kipling

"Thackeray could not draw better."—New York Herald. "It touches its place beside 'Alice in Wonderland.'"—New York Tribune. "A great chronicle of primal fables. Really unique."—The Bookman. Illustrated by the author; net, $1.20.

THE MISDEMEANORS OF NANCY By Eleanor Hoyt

Miss Hoyt's charming creation, "Nancy," is the brightest and most delightful young lady who has appeared in fiction for many a day. Illustrated by Stanlaws; $1.50.

THE CONQUERING OF KATE By "J. P. M."

The last novel by the author of "A Journey to Nature." With frontispiece; $1.50.

NEW ILLUSTRATED STERLING EDITIONS OF STANDARD AUTHORS.

The publishers take pleasure in presenting to the public an entirely new line of standard authors at a medium price. Several sets are from new plates never before printed from. The entire line is well printed from clear type on good paper, uniform in size and style of binding. Each volume contains an etching or photogravure frontispiece with printed tissue, together with a large number of wood-cut and half-tone illustrations and rubricated title-page. Bound in silk ribbed cloth (maroon or green), large 12mo (5½ x 8¼), gilt top, with head-bands, full gilt back and gilt side, at the uniform price of $1.00 per volume. These sets are not offered in competition with the cheaper editions of the same books, being better in respect to type, paper, and binding—satisfactory library editions at reasonable prices.

A Book for Every Business Man!

THE THEORY of ADVERTISING

A Simple Exposition of the Principles of Psychology in their Relation to Successful Advertising . . . . . .

By WALTER DILL SCOTT, Ph.D., Director of the Psychological Laboratory of Northwestern University

THE most practical and useful book on its important subject that has yet appeared, offering much needed help to every business man who feels it necessary to advertise in the most effective manner and with the greatest real economy. With this special class of readers in mind, Professor Scott has written a basic book, which in simple terms and plain language explains the psychological effect of advertisements, and opens the reader's mind to a comprehension of the general principles which underlie the whole subject, thereby enabling him to make an intelligent application of these principles to the requirements of the special case in hand. Copiously illustrated with reproductions of recent advertisements and of actual advertisements made up in accordance with some of the suggestions of the volume.

NEW BOOKS AND NEW EDITIONS

Late and Forthcoming Publications 1903-1904

ADVANCED COURSE FOR SUNDAY-SCHOOLS. By M. C. HAZARD, Ph.D., and Prof. H. F. FOWLER, Brown University. Board covers. Net, 50 cents.

The Books of the Bible with relation to their place in history. A Handbook for adult classes. Designed to meet the needs of those who wish to study the Bible on broad lines in the light of modern scholarship.

ANNIE LAURIE MINE, THE. By DAVID N. BEACH. Pp. 397. $1.50.

A powerful story of life in a Colorado mining camp, in which "Love, Economics and Religion" are happily blended.

BACKGROUND OF MYSTERY, THE. By HENRY WARD BEECHER. Net, 25 cents.

This is one of Mr. Beecher's most profound and helpful sermons, and is republished in neat cloth binding uniform in style with Gladden's "Practice of Immortality," etc. It is a splendid specimen of a sermon such as thoughtful people enjoy.

BLUES CURE, THE. By DELIA LYMAN PORTER. Leatherette binding, blue and white. Net, 25 cents.

A new edition of these pithy and suggestive sketches which have already had a wide circulation.

CHINESE BOOK OF MARTYRS, THE. By LUELLA MINER, missionary of the A. B. C. F. M. Net, $1.50.

A story of Chinese heroism during the Boxer uprising. This is a thrilling narrative showing how Chinese converts in missions of all denominations stood for the Christian faith at the peril of their lives. Much of the story is told in their own words, and the book is a strong testimony to the vital power of Christianity in China.

CHRISTMAS CAT, THE. By Mrs. ANNA BURNHAM BRYANT. Fully illustrated by Edith Brand. $1.00 net.

This is one of the most charming books of the season for children. It is so full of cats and kittens that they can't keep inside the story, but frolic all over the margins and perch upon the cover. Eight-and-ten-year-olds, everywhere, will want to read of the queer ride in a barrel, and the cat who was a doctor's assistant, and its funny experiences as helper in Polly's parish, and the grand cats' party at the end, to which every blessed "invited person" had to bring a kitten, and where everybody, boys, girls, kittens and all, had a chance at the wonder-ball. Santa Claus ought to see to it that at least one Christmas stocking in every household is stuffed out with "The Christmas Cat."

CITIZEN DAN OF THE JUNIOR REPUBLIC. By Mrs. I. T. THURSTON. Pp. 307. $1.25.

Dan was a reckless boy, but the discipline and responsibility involved in membership in the Junior Republic was just what he needed to make a man of him. One of the best books by this popular writer.

CONGREGATIONAL WAY, THE. By GEO. M. BOYNTON, D.D. Net, 75 cents.

A Handbook of Congregational polity and usage. This valuable book aims to do for the present generation of Congregationalists what Dr. Dexter's Congregational Handbook did for those of twenty five years ago. The prevailing usages of the churches are carefully described and the reasons therefor discriminatingly set forth. It has the endorsement of some of our ablest pastors, editors and administrators, who have given the author valuable aid in its preparation.

DEVOTIONAL SERVICES FOR PUBLIC WORSHIP. Arranged by REUEN THOMAS, D.D. Pp. 150. Net, 50 cents.

Choice liturgical forms from ancient and modern sources, designed for the enrichment of public worship. Simple and adaptable, yet dignified and churchly, and suitable for use in small as well as large churches.

FLIGHT FOR LIFE, A. By Rev. JAMES H. ROBERTS. $1.50.

The narratives of missionaries who escaped the massacre in China. Their journey through Asia was full of peril and adventure. Dr. Roberts is a missionary of the American Board, and his narrative is not only profoundly interesting but is told in a fascinating manner.

GNADENSEE: THE LAKE OF GRACE. By EDWIN O. DYER. Pp. 291, with illustrations. Net, $1.50.

A Moravian picture in a Connecticut frame.

GOING INTO BUSINESS. By FRANK H. SWEET, author of "Rufe and Ruth," etc. Pp. 233. $1.00.

A story of enterprise and success. A boy finds that experience is necessary to business success, and in telling how he secured it the author has given us a book that it will do any boy good to read.

HEWERS OF WOOD. By W. G. PUDDEFOOT and ISAAC O. RANKIN. Illustrated by Edith Brand. Pp. 354. $1.50.

A story of the Michigan forests, which is running as a serial in The Congregationalist. Mr. Puddefoot's inimitable style has convulsed many an audience with laughter, while his graphic descriptions and earnest appeals move men as those of few speakers do. This book has much of his characteristic vim and humor, while Dr. Rankin has lent valuable aid in supplying the requisite literary finish, thus making a book which will be found exceedingly forceful, interesting and inspiring.

JESUS OF NAZARETH: THE STORY OF HIS LIFE AND THE SCENES OF HIS MINISTRY. By WILLIAM E. BARTON, D.D. Octavo, with 200 illustrations. Net, $2.50.

A popular life of Christ, written for the use of teachers and for home and popular reading, with special attention to the scenes of the ministry of Jesus.

JOHN ROBINSON, THE PILGRIM PASTOR. By OZORA S. DAVIS, D.D. Net, $1.00.

No biography is now accessible of the gifted and sweet-spirited Pilgrim pastor who did so much to promote the Pilgrim migration which he did not live to share. Dr. Davis has done a valuable service to all interested in Pilgrim history by writing this book.

LIFE OF JESUS, THE CHRIST, THE. By HENRY WARD BEECHER. Pp. 730. Two volumes in one. $1.50 net.

This promised to be the most important literary work ever undertaken by Mr. Beecher, but he did not live to complete it. The greater part of it he wrote for this special purpose, though with many interruptions. The latter portion was prepared by his relatives after his death, and embodies thoughts and in most instances language taken from his sermons upon the life and work of Christ. It abounds in passages of wonderful beauty, power and charm, and reveals the evangelical spirit of the writer as do few of his other works.

LITTLE BOOM NUMBER ONE. By Mrs. FRANK LEE, author of "Garret Grain," "Redmond of the Seventh," "Professor Pin," etc. $1.00.

This is perhaps the most interesting story Mrs. Lee has written. "Little Boom Number One" is the odd name given to an itinerant photographic wagon, which fascinated "Snags," a homeless street waif. He was attracted by it, and still more by the kindly occupants, a father and daughter, who so strongly contrasted with his brutal "guardians" that he followed them out into the country, where he learned neatness, industry, honesty and truth-telling.

MEMORIAL COLLECTION OF SERMONS. By EDWARDS A. PARK, D.D., Professor at Andover Theological Seminary. Pp. 270. Net, $1.50.

This volume contains some of the most notable utterances of the great preacher and theologian, which in their time made a great impression on all who listened to them, and which are well worthy of present reading and study. Among them are the great "Convention Sermon," the "Election Sermon," the "Judas Sermon," the sermon on Peter's denial, the fine oration on the occasion of the death of Prof. Moses Stuart, etc. Those now living who recall the intense interest in these remarkable pulpit utterances, as well as every minister who studied under the great teacher, will welcome their issue in suitable form for preservation. Each sermon is preceded by a brief account of the time, place and circumstances of its delivery.

MONDAY CLUB SERMONS ON THE S.S. LESSONS FOR 1904. $1.25.

NORWOOD. By HENRY WARD BEECHER. Net, $1.00.

This is Mr. Beecher's only novel, and we are glad to be able to announce it at a lower price than heretofore. Merely as a story other novels may surpass it in interest, but no other similar work has the wit and humor mingled with pathos and eloquence which only Beecher could write. It is well worth reading by every admirer of Beecher's genius, and will make a valuable addition to any Sunday-School or family library.

ODD OR EVEN STORIES. By KATE W. HAMILTON. Six volumes, fully illustrated, $2.00.

Similar in style to "General Peg Stories," by the same author.

PILGRIM HYMNAL, THE. 75 cts. For introduction, 60 cts. net.

This is an entirely new book, containing about 550 hymns, with choice music, readings, etc. It is designed to meet the needs of churches who do not wish for a hymnal so large as most of those in common use, but who want one equally good from the standpoint of music, hymnology and typography.

PINE CONES. By WILLIS BOYD ALLEN. $1.00.

A new edition of a good story of outdoor life for boys.

PINE TREE FLAG, THE. By WILLIS BOYD ALLEN. Pp. 250. $1.25.

A story of the Revolution, especially of naval adventure, full of instruction as well as interest. Uniform with "A Son of Liberty" and "Called to the Front," by the same author, the three forming a set of Colonial and Revolutionary stories that are full of patriotic inspiration, and, being based on historic fact, have a distinct educational value.

PIONEER DAYS IN KANSAS. By RICHARD CORDLEY, D.D. Net, $1.00.

A vivid picture of frontier life and work, including graphic stories of border ruffianism, the St. Lawrence massacre, etc.

POLLY STATE: ONE OF THIRTEEN. By FRANCES J. DELANO. With illustrations by Charles Copeland. Pp. 200. $1.25.

There were thirteen in the State family, and they fancied themselves representatives of the original thirteen states of the Union, and having something of the distinctive characteristics of each. Polly, the heroine, is a charming girl, bright, witty and winsome.

POMIUK, A PRINCE OF LABRADOR. By W. B. FORBUSH, PH.D. In press.

A story of a brave boy for brave boys. Pomiuk is a protégé of Dr. Grenfell, whose lectures on life in the Northland have been heard with so much interest during the past year.

RUFE AND RUTH: A PARTNERSHIP. By FRANK E. SWEET. Pp 234. Fully illustrated. $1.00.

A boy and his sister living on an island off the Maine coast form a partnership in which they achieve business success, and by study and experience in a neighboring city broaden their lives and develop noble characters. A story full of action and of human interest, which was printed as a serial in The Wellspring. Thousands who read it in an abridged form can testify to its absorbing interest, and will welcome it in book form as a most desirable addition to the Sunday-school or home library.

SILVER RAGS. By WILLIS BOYD ALLEN. $1.00.

A companion volume to "Pine Cones."

STEPS CHRISTWARD. By REV. HOWARD A. BRIDGMAN, Managing Editor of The Congregationalist. Net, 75 cts.

Hints and helps for young people concerning the Christian life.

Around the Caribbean and Across Panama

By FRANCIS C. NICHOLAS, Ph.D.

Doctor Nicholas has spent many years examining lands and mines around the Isthmus of Panama. Some of his travels read like the most exciting boys' adventures, but with the advantage that they are absolutely true. He has also visited many of the Indian tribes where few white men have gone before him, and his descriptions of the natives and their habits and customs will come as a surprise to most readers. Not the least interesting part of the book is a detailed account of the work being done on the Panama Canal. The book is fully illustrated with original maps of the region visited, and with photographs of scenes and people and Indian relics obtained by the author. Size, 6 x 8¼, unique cover design, Price, $2.00

TWO NEW PAINTING BOOKS FOR CHILDREN

THE WIDE WORLD PAINTING BOOK. With twelve colored plates by J. LAMBERT, with outline copies on drawing paper for little folks to color. 4to size, stiff enamelled picture cover, price, 50c.

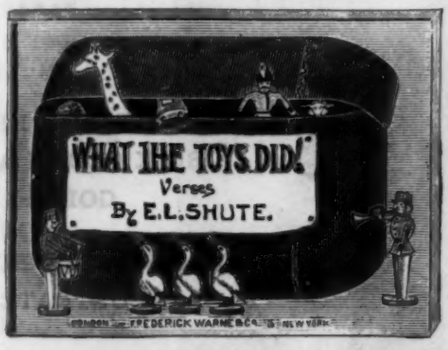
In this pretty book the special feature is the inclusion of the map and flag of each country represented in the plates, with types of costumes, etc., thus presenting some little geographical teaching in the pleasantest manner.

OUR ANIMAL PAINTING BOOK. With numerous colored illustrations of Animals, Birds, and Butterflies, etc., with outlines printed on drawing paper for little folks to color. 4to size, in attractive enamelled picture cover, price, 50c.

The numerous animals and birds in this book, while so adapted as to be simple for children to color, are exceedingly well-drawn and calculated to give little ones a correct idea of form. Upwards of 100 species are represented.

 For full list of Children's Painting Books see our catalogue, page 25.

A CLEVER AND AMUSING GIFT-BOOK

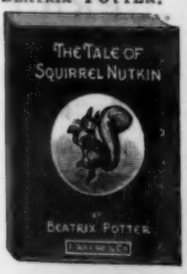


WHAT THE TOYS DID! A Wonderful Dream. With twenty-four illustrations in color, and verses by E. L. SHUTE. Size, 13 x 9¾ inches, varnished litho. board cover and cloth back, price, $1.50.

This book illustrates the adventures of an old-fashioned wooden box of Toys in a little boy's dream. The drawings retain all the wooden appearance of the originals, and contain a fund of humor which is very well brought out in the accompanying verses.

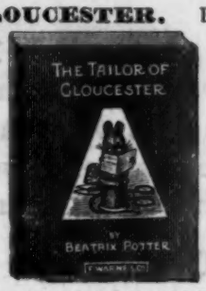
THE PETER RABBIT BOOKS

THE TALE OF SQUIRREL NUTKIN. By BEATRIX POTTER. With 27 colored pictures. Art paper, boards, flat back, size 5½ x 4½ inches, price, 50c.



The story of an impertinent little squirrel who goes with his brothers and cousins to Owl Island to gather nuts. The story towards the end becomes painfully thrilling, but most people will agree that Master Nutkin is deservedly punished for his excessive rudeness to Old Brown the owl.

THE TAILOR OF GLOUCESTER. By BEATRIX POTTER. With 27 colored pictures. Art paper, boards, flat back, price, 50c.



A fascinating story of a Tailor, his cat, a skein of cherry-colored twist, and mice. The story gives Miss Potter opportunities for a series of the daintiest and prettiest drawings, which many will say are even better than those in "The Tale of Peter Rabbit."

THE MOST SUCCESSFUL CHILDREN'S BOOK OF LAST YEAR

THE TALE OF PETER RABBIT. By BEATRIX POTTER. With 31 colored illustrations. Art boards, flat back, price, 50c.

It depicts the incidents in the exciting progress of Peter through Mr. McGregor's garden, where he would venture in spite of his mother's warning that it was a dangerous place, where his father had come to grief and —PIE.

TWO NEW PICTURE PUZZLE TOY BOOKS

In 4to size, containing six colored plates and two colored key pages, with the principal objects in blank, and the corresponding parts printed separately on the key pages for cutting out and pasting in the missing spaces. With attractive varnished cover, price, each, 25c.

OUR HOLIDAYS. From designs by A. J. JOHNSON. With pictures of "The Zoological Garden," "A Circus," "The Seaside," "The Country Farm," "Feeding the Chickens," and "Out for a Ride."

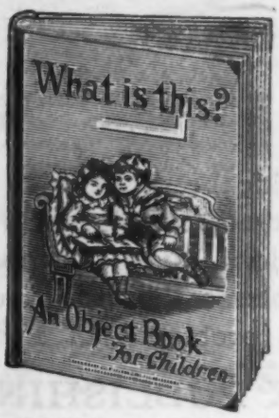
OUR DOLLIES. From designs by A. J. JOHNSON. Depicting events in a day of a doll's life. With pictures of "Dolly's Home Outside," "Dolly's Home Inside," "Getting Up," "Dressed for a Walk," "The Doll's Picnic," and "The Doll's Wedding"

 The two previous books "The Book of Trades," and "The House We Live In," can be sorted up with the above or obtained separately (price, 25c. each).

A NEW VOLUME IN THE HUMPTY-DUMPTY SERIES

LITTLE FOLKS' FAIRY TALES. Fifty-six pages of illustrations printed in colors from drawings by CONSTANCE HASLEWOOD. Size, 8½ x 6½, attractive picture, varnish boards, cloth back, price 75c.

Containing the following: "Puss in Boots," "Dick Whittington," "Red Riding Hood," Little Snowdrop," "Tom Thumb," "Cinderella," "Jack and the Beanstalk." Miss Haslewood's dainty colored illustrations have already been much appreciated by little folk.



WHAT IS THIS? An object book for children, with 26 pages of beautiful colored pictures, and rhymes so arranged as to bring in the object shown, mounted on strong cardboard leaves. Size, 9¾ x 6¾ inches. Varnished board cover, with cloth back, $1.25.

NEW BOOKS

According to the Pattern

By GRACE LIVINGSTON HILL

6 Illustrations. Price, $1.00 net; Postpaid, $1.08

A PICTURE of some of the undercurrents of society life. The heroine becomes somewhat estranged from her husband, who is for the time-being fascinated by another woman. She determines to win him back, and in order to carry out her purpose enters society, and herself becomes entangled. The cross purposes, the growing alienation, and the final reunion with its accompanying pictures of fashionable life form a story of intense interest. Mrs. Hill has done her best work in this story.

The History of Christian Preaching

By T. HARWOOD PATTISON, D. D. Illustrated with 20 portraits. 12mo, 430 pages. Price, $1.50 net; postpaid, $1.65.

Doctor Pattison has a chapter on the prophetic order of preachers, and then beginning with the ministry of Christ follows the course of Christian preaching to the present time. It is a rapid survey of the entire field, but its characteristic consists in this, that it is a series of monographs on the great preachers of the different periods and schools. Origen, Chrysostom, Bernard, Francis, Wycliffe, Savonarola, Luther, Knox, and in modern times, Spurgeon, Beecher, Brooks, stand out clear-cut as cameos. The work has all of Doctor Pattison's known thoroughness and sprightliness of style.

The Winner

By EVERETT T. TOMLINSON. 12mo, 308 pages, 12 illustrations. Price, $1.00 net; postpaid, $1.10

Mr. Tomlinson's stories are always first-class. He has written of the academy and college, and now he touches upon the high school. The title is applicable to either the principal or the pupil. The former lays down the platform that a school should be self-governing and exist for its pupil's true development, and he wins. The latter begins by opposing his teacher because of his youth, and ends by falling in with his idea and conquers himself and he wins. The story is one of Mr. Tomlinson's best, and wins on its merit.

AMBITION

IT is the ambition of all publishers in the United States to have reviews of their books appear in the two leading literary daily newspapers of the country, viz.: The NEW YORK SUN and the NEW YORK TIMES. A work must have some merit to receive a small notice in these papers. It must have merit of the very highest order to receive a column review. The book must have extraordinary merit to receive such notices as were given "Captain Kettle, K.C.B.," in these two critical papers.

The NEW YORK TIMES published, ON THE EDITORIAL PAGE, April 18th issue, a full column review of "Captain Kettle," entitled "Owen Kettle," extracts from which we give below.

The NEW YORK SUN published a column review, April 25th, from which we give extracts below. Every literary critic throughout the country has praised "Cutcliffe Hyne's new book." A large number of papers have published illustrated reviews of the book showing the "Captain" in some of his many perilous adventures.

Now Ready, Second Edition—CUTCLIFFE HYNE'S NEW BOOK

CAPT' KETTLE, K. C. B.

EXTRA CLOTH

Inlaid Portrait of Capt' Kettle done in 4 Colors on Cover. Price. $1.25

The N. Y. TIMES says: "A more inventive, more agile, more daring, more lovable adventurer than Capt. Kettle, K. C. B., this picturesque chap of red peaked beard, is not to be imagined."

The N. Y. SUN says: "In sensational fiction which deals in preposterous situations and unheard-of intrepidity, there are few figures as entertaining as Mr. Cutcliffe Hyne's 'Captain Kettle,' and we hope that Mr. Hyne will bring him out again from that retreat to which he is consigned at the end of this series."

Prof. H. T. PECK, in the N. Y. JOURNAL BOOK SUPPLEMENT, says: "Among the few characters in fiction that have impressed themselves in the popular imagination, Capt. Owen Kettle has a prominent place. The present volume is certain, therefore, to be widely read."

The N. Y. PRESS says: "Captain Kettle made many friends through the medium of his first adventures. To those who have never made his acquaintance, now is the time."

THE LIFE OF A GREAT MAN TOLD IN FICTION

IT is doubtful if any work published in recent years has aroused such a storm of criticism as Miss Francis' "A Son of Destiny." In addition to over 250 reviews in the leading daily papers, praising Miss Francis' work, we have received a large number of letters from leading statesmen throughout the country, speaking in the highest terms of the historical value of "A Son of Destiny." Andrew Jackson is one of the "Great Trio," Washington, Jackson, Lincoln. "A Son of Destiny" successfully portrays his remarkably adventurous career.

Books in Big Demand

The live, up-to-date bookseller is well aware that the best trade at the Holiday season seek out the newest novelties and the truly good books. We make books which sell largely because they have the qualities necessary to success—originality, good material and beautiful bindings. If we are not serving you now give us a chance to make your customers happy this coming season.

The Great Optimist

By Leigh Mitchell Hodges

We know of no book since Drummond's "Greatest Thing in the World" that will appeal to the hearts of the people like this new book.

It consists of a series of optimistic essays—"looking on the bright side."

The first essay alone is worth the price of the volume. It is a gem. A masterpiece of helpful and uplifting writing, picturing, in graphic language, Christ as the Greatest Optimist.

This is a book people want and will talk about. The third edition is in preparation before publication.

The making of this book is charmingly done—ten colored inserts are used.

THE RED-KEGGERS

By Eugene Thwing

"It is a substantial story, full of action, local color, and love, and teeming with episodes characteristic of the lumber industry—an epic of the ax,—the sort of book one welcomes heartily for its strenuous out-door atmosphere."—Brooklyn Daily Eagle.

"The story is as full of nature as the forests themselves. Mr. Thwing is a writer of force and ability—there is no doubt of that. 'The Red-Keggers' is a story that compels the reader's attention from beginning to end. We hope for more from the same pen."—Nashville American.

"'The Red-Keggers' is a book worth reading. It has all the interest of the novel of the day, but it possesses a greater moral worth than all but a very few. . . . It is a magnet to draw the interest of even the jaded reader of many novels."—Baltimore Sun.

"Powerful and dramatic, 'The Red-Keggers' keeps the interest of an acute pitch with no wavering until the last word is read. Then one turns to the beginning, and going through the book searches out the passages that made an extra appeal to the mind and reads them over again. A little later one picks up the book again and reperuses it from start to finish. Such is the impression made by this story, which has a strength and force that are rare. The book will meet with marked success."—Providence Sunday Telegram.

"The book is like Ralph Connor at his best—strong, virile, wholesome. From the opening chapter to the last chapter the book holds the reader's attention. Eugene Thwing has a vivid style, direct and powerful, and he knows how to picture real men and women in the great crises of the heart. He has humor, too. Through many dramatic scenes this quality shines above all in the love-making. It takes an artist to write love scenes that are not silly, and Mr. Thwing has shown himself an artist. The book deserves success, and the author may be expected to do great things."—Pittsburg Gazette.

Miss Potter's new novel published today

THE CASTLE OF TWILIGHT

MISS POTTER'S new novel, "The Castle of Twilight," is a romance of unusual beauty and nobility, both in conception and treatment.

The pictures in color by Charlotte Weber show an equal inspiration on the part of the artist, backed by the engraver's most sympathetic skill.

In other details it is a perfect example of all that is best in modern bookmaking.

SONGS FROM THE HEARTS OF WOMEN

One Hundred Famous Hymns and Their Writers

By NICHOLAS SMITH. Net $1.40

No more appropriate subject for a gift book could be imagined than the stories of some of the most soul-stirring hymns of the Christian religion, those that have become endeared through long association. Especially is it true that the language of woman's soul has given the church its tenderest and most beautiful songs. Mr. Smith feels that from the hearts of women alone have come truly delicate thought, tenderness of tone, and deeply religious sentiment.

MARRIAGE IN EPIGRAM

Compiled by FREDERICK W. MORTON. 18mo, net 80 cents.

This is the fourth and last volume of the famous "Epigram Series." Mr. Morton has shown, by the use of aphorisms and sayings collected from the wits of all ages, that marriage is what he calls "the world's greatest paradox—the survival of paradise or a foretaste of purgatory." Whatever one's ideas may be on the subject, he is sure to find many a sympathetic touch in this delightful little collection.

J. S. OGILVIE PUBLISHING COMPANY'S

NEW CLOTH BOUND BOOKS

MR. CLAGHORN'S DAUGHTER. By HILARY TRENT. 12mo, 277 pages, cloth bound, $1.00.
This is a book which is causing quite a sensation and every dealer should order a few copies.

THE SOCIAL GHOST. By OLIVE HARPER AND ANOTHER. 12mo, 235 pages, cloth bound with 14 full page illustrations. Price, $1.50
This is a unique story of a reporter's experiences with the ghosts in Trinity Church Yard. It will sell.

"THE MAN IN THE STREET" STORIES

FROM THE NEW YORK TIMES 12mo. 256 Pages, Cloth Bound, $1.00

This collection of After-Dinner Stories has been compiled from the columns of the Sunday edition of The New York Times, and its many readers as well as others will be glad of the opportunity to secure this volume.
CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW says of them: "These are the best After-Dinner Stories I have ever seen"
Every one will admit that he is competent to express an opinion on this subject. It is prepared with a complete index, which increases its value very much.

MORE EX-TANK TALES. By CLARENCE LOUIS CULLEN. With Introduction by the Author.
12mo, 250 pages, cloth bound. Price, $1.00.
The very flattering reception which was given to "Tales of the Ex-Tanks," by the same author, has induced us to issue this work under the above title, and which, we have no doubt, will have a large sale. It is printed on the best quality of fine laid paper, and neatly bound in cloth.

THE LETTERS OF MILDRED'S MOTHER TO MILDRED. By E. D. PRICE, "The Man Behind the Scenes."
12mo, 160 pages, cloth bound. Price, $1.00.
BLAKELY HALL says of it: "I don't know whether you are aware of it or not, but you are turning out wonderful, accurate and convincing character studies in the 'Mildred's Mother' articles. They are as refreshing and invigorating as showers on the hottest July day."

THE SINKER STORIES. By J. JOSEPH GOODWIN. 12mo, 256 pages, illustrated, cloth bound. Price, $1.00.
This collection of humorous stories appeared in the New York Sun, and in response to a demand for their publication in a complete form we have issued this book. It contains a style of humor entirely unique, and which has been very popular with the readers of The Sun.

BILLY BURGUNDY'S OPINIONS. By "BILLY BURGUNDY," author of "Toothsome Tales Told in Slang."
16mo, illustrated, cloth bound, 50 cents; paper, 25 cents.
We have just issued this new book by this famous author of humorous and slang stories which will doubtless have a large sale. It is illustrated by new and unique designs.

ENGLISH REFERENCE CATALOGUE

The Reference Catalogue of Current English Literature, better known as "Whitaker's Reference List," is the English work corresponding to the American "Publishers' Trade List Annual." It contains the lists of 179 of the most important English publishers and is prefixed by an index containing 135,000 references to the books catalogued. It is thus invaluable in libraries and bookstores as the most convenient and complete key to current English books. The present issue is in two volumes, of about 5000 pages, strongly bound in half leather at the price of $5.00 net. The edition is limited, and few copies remain unsold. American orders should be sent to the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY 298 Broadway, New York.

THREE CENTURIES OF ENGLISH BOOKTRADE BIBLIOGRAPHY

An historical account of English booktrade bibliography from 1595 to the beginning of the present century, with a prefatory chapter on the beginnings of booktrade bibliography, bookselling and publishing since the introduction of printing, by A. GROWOLL, managing editor of The Publishers' Weekly, and an annotated bibliography by WILBERFORCE EAMES, Lenox Librarian. The work contains three portraits of prominent bibliographers on Japan paper and a number of facsimiles.

One volume, 8vo, half leather, net, $5. Carriage free

Of value to all who may be interested in the history of literature since Gutenberg's time.

"Librarians, literary folk, publishers and booksellers in general will find it of surpassing interest and real value."—London Publishers' Circular.

"An invaluable work for the bookseller and librarian . . . superbly gotten up."—Börsenblatt.

"The genuine booklover, be he book collector or bookseller, will find a fascination in this story of the trade development that lends attraction to all its details, illustrated, as they often are, with quaint particulars. . . . The illustrations consist of a number of facsimiles of title-pages and hand-lists and portraits of Georg Willer, the father of booktrade bibliography, Sampson Low, the pioneer of modern booktrade bibliography, and of Joseph Whitaker, who has a deserved place in the ranks of English booktrade bibliographers as the editor of The Bookseller and of the "English Reference List." Among the title-pages presented in facsimile the one of Willer's first catalogue, made from a copy in the archives of the library of the Börsenverein, is reproduced for the first time. The title-page of Maunsell's catalogue is also reproduced for the first time, and the other five are given either for the first time or are so little known to the general readers that they may be regarded de novo."—Library Journal.

PUBLISHERS are gradually realizing the importance of two vital facts, especially when contemplating having large editions bound.

FIRST—To have their books bound in the best possible manner.

SECOND—To save enough money thereon as will guarantee an enormous annual extra dividend.

You are certainly not averse to making money. Ask me to submit samples and estimates. You will then follow the lead of some of the best publishing houses who find it profitable to give me their work.

"THE BULLIEST GIRL OUT"

THE FORTUNES OF FIFI

BY

MOLLY ELLIOT SEAWELL

AUTHOR OF

"The Sprightly Romance of Marsac," "Children of Destiny," "Francezka," etc.

It is a pleasure to read "The Fortunes of Fifi"—it is a pleasure to recommend it—it is a pleasure to sell it.

Miss Seawell has outdone herself in these surprising adventures of a wonderful little actress, a small black dog, the Emperor Napoleon, a lottery ticket number 1313, His Holiness the Pope, a blue satin bed, and a stiff-legged hero.

With illustrations in color by T. DE THULSTRUP

Ornamental cloth, 12mo, $1.50
